Khrushchev in Calcutta for More Talks With Nehru

Calcutta — (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Calcutta today for more talks with Prime Minister Nehru and U Nu of Burma amid speculation that the Soviet premier might be bringing some word from Peiping on the India-China border dispute.

Khrushchev flew from Jakarta for an overnight stay en route to Afghanistan, last stop on his South Asian tour. Nehru arrived half an hour earlier from New Delhi to meet the Russian leader for the second time in less than three weeks.

U Nu, Burma's former prime minister who is slated to take over the government again in April, was due later in the day. He also conferred with Khrushchev two weeks ago, in Rangoon Feb. 17.

Hasn't Taken Sides

Khrushchev is believed to have been in touch with his Chinese ally since his visit to Nehru in New Delhi. It was assumed the Russian premier and Nehru would again discuss the better dispute between Peiping and New Delhi over 51,000 square miles of Himalayan territory claimed by both nations.

During his previous visit to India, Khrushchev took neither side in the dispute. Publicly he said only that he hoped India and China would soon reach an agreement.

Report 1,000 Dead in Quakes, Fire, Tidal Wave in African Port

U. S., French Rush Aid to Stricken City

Casablanca, Morocco — (AP) — Two giant earthquakes, fire and a tidal wave wrecked the south Moroccan port of Agadir in the night. Officials back from the scene said 1,000 persons were killed and an equal number injured.

The number of injured may reach several thousand when rescue workers are able to make an accurate tally, the officials said.

U. S. and French armed forces joined in relief efforts for the city of 40,000 on the Atlantic about 340 miles south of Casablanca.

Planes flew in doctors and medical supplies. The powerful U. S. Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean was alerted to send units to Agadir at full speed if the need arose.

The earthquakes, an hour and 22 minutes apart, were of such magnitude that measuring instruments in the Casablanca observatory were damaged. The first came at 11:41 p. m. (5:41 CST) last night, the second at 1:03 a. m. (7:03 p. m.) Fires broke out while rescue work was in progress.

The tidal wave apparently dashed 300 yards into the city through the harbor, overlooked by a massive citadel atop a 720-foot rock. A Spanish ship, the Avelino Correa, radioed that the dock was cut in two and all the loading cranes collapsed.

Morocco's health minister, Dr. Youssef ben Abbas, took to the Rabat radio to appeal for blood donors. He asked full support from the people "in this terrible catastrophe."

Communications were wrecked. Morocco has been an independent kingdom since 1956.

French and U. S. forces, however, retain bases there. The United States has five bases, air and naval, which it expects to give up in the next couple of years. The French hold bases they built up while this northwest African territory was divided into French and Spanish protectorates and the Tangier international zone.

Hotels Crowded
About 5,000 of Agadir's people are of European extraction. Hotels of the town, a favored tourist spot, were booked heavily last weekend.

First reports said the thickly populated old native quarter was virtually leveled and the modern section of concrete buildings and shops built by the French was about three-fourths destroyed or damaged.

Many tourists, most of them

Senate Votes to Continue Session Around the Clock

Decision Comes at Dawn in Fight Over Civil Rights Bill

Washington — (AP) — The senate in a dawn test voted 55-6 today to continue indefinitely the around-the-clock session on civil rights.

The vote came shortly after 6:30 a. m. after the senate had been in session 18½ hours in a drive by the leadership to break the deadlock over the legislation.

Democratic and Republican leaders are supporting plans to keep the senate in session night and day this week without any recess in an effort to bring a civil rights bill to a decision.

The 55-6 vote defeated a motion by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) to adjourn the senate at 8 o'clock tonight.

Morse announced he was offering the motion to test sentiment on whether the around-the-clock session should continue.

He said he was opposing his own motion but wanted a sen-

100 Isolated By Blizzard

4,000 Cattle are Reported Stranded in Colorado Area

Denver — (AP) — Husky mechanized army units poised today to assist about 100 isolated ranchers and 4,000 stranded cattle in blizzard-torn southern Colorado.

Two convoys of weasels, bulldozers and trucks were standing by at Ft. Carson, Colo., in readiness to dash 200 miles southeastward to the snowbound Kim area of Las Animas county.

The convoys were organized last night but departure was held up until an advance party could scout the area and determine exactly the equipment needed to clear roads clogged with drifts as deep as 12 feet.

Can't Feed Cattle
Ft. Carson's rescue groups were formed after Las Animas county officials reported the area, about 275 miles southeast of Denver, had suffered extremely heavy blows from snows and subzero cold the last two weeks.

Some cattle are reported dead and others gravely weakened because ranchers can not break through drifts to deliver feed to them. The simultaneously approved agreement for more than $400 million worth of trade with the Russians.

The Japanese said the treaty is purely defensive and cannot be invoked unless Japan is attacked.

Sheriff's Lt. Jack Frenzl questions Joseph Smith, left, and Jerry Smith, right, about the attack on a 19-year-old Green Bay girl early Monday morning. Jerry Smith lives at 614 W. College avenue. Joseph resides at 116 Garfield street, Kaukauna. The two are being held in the Outagamie county jail.

The search for an attacker was found by the superintendent of the Wisconsin State reformatory Oneida honor farm. She was dumped from the car about 2:30 a. m. Monday.

Met at Bar
Frenzl and Skenandore said the two men met the girl at a Green Bay bar and visited yet another bar before driving through Brown county toward Outagamie county. They said the girl was acquainted with one of the Smiths prior to their meeting Sunday night.

She remembered the first name and authorities began back-checking. Jerry Smith was arrested late Monday morning at his home. Joseph was arrested at work at the money collected for a son's funeral.

Frenzl said Joseph's arms circuit Judge Bruce Beil and face carried deep scratches inflicted when the girl tried to fight off her attacker.

Ike Pledges Military Support but Faces Questions on Economic Aid
Santiago, Chile — (AP) — President Eisenhower told Chilean legislators today the United States will defend "with misunderstandings of U. S. strength and promptness and policy, among them the question that becomes a victim of American republics."

Tour Members To Depart From Appleton

Special arrangements have been made with North Central Airlines to have members of the European Tour depart by chartered airliner. The tour, with Charlie House as host, will leave on July 10 for a 23-day trip.

Travelers sponsored by the Post-Crescent will depart from the Outagamie County airport and the group sponsored by the Green Bay Press-Gazette from Austin Straubel Field. It has not yet been decided which group Mr. House will accompany. The travelers will transfer from North Central to one of the major airlines, probably at Milwaukee, for the trip to New York, and then to a SAS DC-8 jet for the European leg of the trip.

Soviets Say Flights Would be Violation

U. S. Plans to Resume High Altitude Flying in Berlin Air Corridors, Says Report

Berlin —A— The Soviet embassy in East Berlin said today resumption of high-altitude flights to Berlin by western big three planes would be "violating past practices."

But an embassy spokesman declined to say whether Soviet fighter planes would be sent up against U. S., British or French planes flying above the 10,000-foot ceiling imposed by the Russians on isolated Berlin's air corridors.

Soviet fighter planes buzzed but did not attack U. S. supply planes last April when they defied the ceiling rule. None of the big three recognizes the ceiling.

Fearful Incident

The United States halted the high altitude flights at the prompting of the British, who feared a serious incident. A report from Washington Monday said the allies are notifying the Russians of their intention to resume the high altitude flights.

"If we get something concrete in the form of a note," the Soviet spokesman said, "then we can talk about it. Naturally we would have to talk with our allies, especially the GDR (communist East Germany) about it."

He indicated that any high altitude flights would be considered a violation of East Germany's air space.

Bold Move

The allied decision to resume high-altitude flights is considered a bold move to counter the increasing pressure the Soviet Union has been putting on West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

When last spring's flights were made, there was fear in the west that there might be another ground blockade of Berlin.

The flights had a 2-fold purpose: (1) To demonstrate that giant C-30 cargo planes—which fly more efficiently at altitudes above 10,300 feet—could be used to supply West Berlin and (2) to show that the allies would not allow the Russians to dictate to them on flight levels or anything else involving Berlin.

A spokesman for the British mission said he knew of no advance word having been delivered here of a resumption of high altitude flights.

In Paris, a French foreign ministry spokesman said he knew of no plans for high level flying to begin immediately between West Germany and West Berlin.

Chessman Offers to Halt Fight

Sacramento, Calif. —Caryl Chessman's offer to die in the gas chamber brought a dramatic new element today into California's gathering legislative battle over capital punishment.

The convict-author wrote Gov. Edmund G. Brown that he is willing to end his fight for life if the California legislature will vote to abolish the death penalty for everybody else.

"I offer . . . my life," said the convict who was condemned in 1948 as a perverted sex-kidnap.

"I give my solemn word before the world that I will never challenge such a law in the courts and I will disavow any attempt by any attorney purporting to act in my behalf."

For almost 12 of his 38 years, Chessman has fought to escape the gas chamber. But now, he told the governor, if his death will ease the way to the abolition of capital punishment, he is willing to die.

He said he had asked himself what he could do to "divorce the ugly, emotion-inflamed image of Caryl Chessman from the grave social issue of capital punishment."

Chessman's 7,000-word letter was delivered to the capitol last night by a highway patrolman. It arrived on the day the legislature reconvened with strong evidence it would refuse to repeal capital punishment.

Treat Words With Care, Speaker Says

Most Expensive Thing We Have, Principals Told

BY G. K. HODENFIELD

Portland, Ore. —Words are about the most expensive thing we have, and we ought to treat them with more care.

That is the considered opinion of J. N. Hook, one of the authors of a proposed new program for teaching English in junior and senior high schools. He told the convention of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals:

About half of all the taxes you pay every year are spent on words.

When you buy a new $3,000 car, you are getting about $1,500 worth of words.

National Defense
About half the $41 billion Uncle Sam pays annually for national defense buys nothing but words.

Even the average cost of a business letter today is between $1.50 and $2.

If this seems all out of line, consider that automobile. Says Hook:

"The salesman and the dealer get a sizeable commission for persuading you to buy their make rather than another. You pay handsomely for their words—perhaps from $100 to $500."

You also pay for all the words, written or spoken, in board meetings, order forms, telegrams, telephone calls, newspaper, radio and television advertisements, sales conferences—you name it, you're paying for it.

About those taxes, and the words they pay for:

"Most of the people in Washington are communicators. They make words, not something tangible. The same applies to most state and local government employees."

Military Expense
"About half our huge military expenses is for communication."

Hook, executive secretary of the National Council of Teachers of English, Champaign, Ill., is a member of a 15-man committee named by the high school principals to come up with a statement of policy on the teaching of English from the seventh through the twelfth grade.

The committee's suggestions, submitted to the convention Monday, call for much more emphasis on the basics of the English language, particularly reading and writing. They are expected to be adopted as national policy, with only minor revisions, after two days of debate and discussion.

The committee said there should be a regular diet of writing, reading and spelling for every student, every year.

YOU MAY HAVE A SUBLAXATION

A subluxation can be the forerunner of encephalitis, infantile paralysis, or meningitis; and the predisposing cause of such common ailments as colds, influenza, sore throat, rheumatism, and pains of all kinds. Very few people are familiar with the word "subluxation." It probably doesn't frighten you as would the mention of some of the above conditions, yet the effect of a subluxation is slow death itself. According to some authorities it is impossible to get sick without first having a subluxation. Fortunately our bodies correct most of them by relaxation while we sleep or rest; and many are corrected accidentally.

A doctor of Chiropractic is the only one trained to locate and adjust a subluxation. If you ask a chiropractor he will tell you that a subluxation is a slight misalignment of a vertebra causing an interference with the vital nerve flow from the brain to that part of the body supplied by the affected nerves. This message sponsored in the interest of public health by Chiropractors of the Fox Cities and Locals.

Two Circular-Design, 60-Story apartment buildings—tallest buildings in Chicago—are scheduled for construction starting in May. Apartments will run from the 20th floor up and helical ramps on the first 18 floors are for car parking in the architect's prospectus. Towers will be 555 feet high in the Marina City development planned for downtown Chicago by the Building Service Employees International union.

Elvis Presley to Get Discharge From Army

Flies Home Tomorrow, Leaves Behind Girl, 16, He Has Been Dating Often

Friedberg, Germany —Elvis Presley flies home tomorrow to get his army discharge and return to show business. The rock 'n' roll singer leaves behind a 16-year-old American high school girl he's been dating often—but quietly—for several months.

The pretty brunette, Priscilla Beaulieu, said she is "very fond" of Elvis, "but you shouldn't think there is anything serious." She said she doesn't know if she'll see him after he returns to America, "but I certainly would like to."

Air Force Captain
Priscilla's father, U.S. Air Force Capt. Joseph P. Beaulieu, Jr. of Waco, Texas, is stationed at Wiesbaden air base. She attends the high school for U.S. dependents in Wiesbaden.

Presley told a news conference he had been dating Priscilla for three or four months. "She is very mature," he said. "She's got beautiful blue eyes. A very pretty brunette and I like her very much."

"We've been meeting in her father's home. We've been going to the movies together and we've been going for rides together. That's all."

Presley refused to say whether he will meet Priscilla again after his discharge from the army, scheduled Thursday.

He allowed, however, that "maybe she will be at Rhine main airbase when I'm flying home tomorrow."

"Yes, I will be there," said Priscilla, reached by telephone at her school.

"There is nothing serious about this," said Priscilla's father, reached at his home. "Neither of them has spoken of anything like that."

"The two of them have been great friends. They've had a real nice time knowing one another. But that's all there is to it."

Norman's woman mayor, Mrs. June Benson, and Frank Schumacher, mayor of Argonia, will be here to help Mrs. Salter celebrate. Both cities have proclaimed tomorrow as Susanna Madora Salter day.

Panama Flag Flies Beside U. S. Banner

Emblems Up for Carnival Parade in Canal Zone

Panama —Panama's flag went up beside the stars and stripes today along the Canal Zone boundary where Panamanian demonstrators trying to plant the banner clashed with U.S. police and troops last November.

The small Panamanian emblems will not stay up, however. U.S. authorities in the Canal Zone ordered them put on lampposts for today's carnival parade climaxing the annual 4-day celebration.

The line of march will pass down Fourth of July avenue in the U.S.-operated Canal Zone, and U.S. officials ordered the Panamanian insignia posted in an effort to counteract plans by nationalist agitators for another flag demonstration.

80 Injured
When nationalist demonstrators tried to plant their flag in the Canal Zone last November as a symbol of Panama's sovereignty over the U.S.-controlled area, more than 80 persons were injured in clashes between the demonstrators and U.S. Canal Zone police and troops.

Panamanian officials did not order the national police out until the demonstrators had battled repeatedly with the American guards on the boundary. This time Panamanian officials indicated they were ready for trouble should it develop.

One official indicated that known troublemakers might be rounded up before the festivities start. Canal Zone authorities indicated they, too, were ready to cope with any violence.

Authorities said two communist students from the University of Panama were among those planning a demonstration. Student sources said a professor who has visited behind the iron curtain was also among the promoters.

The original plan was to hold a public rally at the legislative palace across the street from the Canal Zone boundary line. Authorities were said to have banned the meeting on the grounds it would interfere with the carnival parade.

Democrats Advised To Dramatize Issues On Party Policies

Blunt Memorandum Says Steps Necessary or Nixon Will Win

BY JACK BELL

Washington —A memorandum advising Democrats they may lose the presidential race while retaining control of congress was circulating among influential party members today.

In blunt language, California's Paul Ziffren told his colleagues on the Democratic national committee that unless steps are taken to dramatize "bread and butter" issues, Vice President Richard M. Nixon may be the next president.

He said this should be done by surveys in depth of the issues and action to sell the party's policies to the voters.

Criticizes Leadership
Ziffren, who has been critical of the Democratic leadership in congress as too middle-road, made it clear he doesn't believe the "party of responsibility" slogan of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas will be effective.

"The voter doesn't care whether government is responsible," Ziffren said. "The voter wants to know what it is doing for him. We have got to give him some answers—concretely, concretely and quickly."

Similarly, Ziffren said he doesn't think there is much political mileage in contending that President Eisenhower has been a weak president. Several Democratic hopefuls, including Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, have taken this line.

"The voter isn't concerned with whether a president is weak or strong," Ziffren said. "In fact some of them like their presidents to be weak—others like him to be strong, but each of them is concerned with what it means to himself (the voter)."

Ziffren said Republicans had succeeded in putting Democrats in a "straitjacket" on economic issues by accusing them of favoring excessive spending.

Cost of Living
"I believe the reason Mr. Nixon has been able to neutralize our advantage on bread and butter issues is that the Republicans have convinced many of the voters that the high cost of living is due to the 'spending' policies of the Democratic party," the California committee man said.

"We must get out of this 'straitjacket' if we are going to be able to discuss these issues properly. I believe the most effective way to do this is to demonstrate that high prices have been caused largely by the fact that during the last seven years the Republican party has permitted big business to develop monopolistic tendencies with ob-thorities indicated they, too, were ready to cope with any violence.

Authorities said two communist students from the University of Panama were among those planning a demonstration. Student sources said a professor who has visited behind the iron curtain was also among the promoters.

Olson Picks Up First Backing

Columbia County Delegate Slate Pledges Support

Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells has picked up his first county slate of delegates who will support him for endorsement as the Republican nominee for governor at the state GOP convention at Milwaukee in May.

The 26 Columbia county delegates to the convention, named at a Republican meeting Monday night at Portage, agreed to back Olson for the endorsement.

Frank Ankenbrandt of Arlington was elected chairman of the delegates. Ross Bennett of Portage was named men's vice chairman and Mrs. Ken Reuhl of Portage, women's vice chairman. Gib Jones of Cambria was elected secretary-treasurer.

Olson and Philip Kuehn of Milwaukee seek the Republican nomination and will vie for the convention endorsement.

Kuehn, speaking at Menominee Falls Monday night, said that Democratic lawmakers "are paying lip service to industrial development while supporting measures that would hinder Wisconsin's economic growth."

He said that "punitive and unjust" legislation is favored by Democrats.

Nixon Holds Ike's Strength in South

Lubell's Survey Shows Religion Hurts Kennedy's Chances There

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

Whatever the outcome of the battle for civil rights legislation in congress. Vice President Nixon must be given a fighting chance to hold part of the south in November's presidential race. During the last month I have been interviewing typical voters in seven southern states. Among other things, I have learned that, despite the bitterness stirred by the use of federal troops at Little Rock, Ark., no mass return to the Democratic party is under way.

supporters are inclined to favor Nixon but are waiting to see whom the Democrats nominate and what happens at the Democratic presidential convention.

has made its decision and it makes no difference who is president." Some people say, "No candidate will agree with the south." Other maintain, "The south can't win. The rest of the country is against us."

Most southerners interviewed shrugged off the idea of a third party, explaining "that wouldn't do any good." Some grin and wisecrack, "Maybe I'll go fishing election day." But most of the people interviewed seemed to be making their choice on the basis of economic interest or who they think is the "best man."

Merchants Like Nixon

Among merchants, professional people and other business-minded voters, Nixon was a four-to-one favorite. With workers and housewives who sympathize with labor unions, he got only one out of seven votes.

Given a straight-out economic contest, the Democrats probably would hold the edge through most of the South. Still, if Sen. Kennedy were nominated, anti-Catholic defections could provide the extra margin that might swing some southern states to Nixon.

Nixon also draws support from persons who feel "he has the experience" or, "at least he'll tell the Russians off."

John Pulls Strongly

Of all the Democratic hopefuls, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas pulls most strongly in the south. But even he is looked on with considerable distrust as "just another liberal."

"Texas is already integrated," protested a Miami barber. "Johnson would promise us a lot, but I wouldn't believe him. He'd turn around and do something else."

Again in Richmond, Va., a staunch Democrat declared, "Even Humphrey would be better than Johnson. At least he says what he thinks, not what some ghost writer puts in his mouth."

Civil Rights Neutralizing

Such comments were being voiced in the south even before the February 15 maneuver through which Johnson brought the civil rights issue to the floor of the Senate. The next morning I went into an east Texas county, where racial sensitivity runs high.

One youthful factory worker burst out, "I'm not for Johnson any more. Here the south is getting pushed around and he doesn't help it."

But the more general feeling was expressed by a 42-year-old poultry farmer, who remarked, "I don't guess Johnson will be too different from these northern liberals. Still, maybe he'll go a little softer on the south."

To sum up, the political maneuvering over civil rights may have the surprising effect of neutralizing the issue in the south for this year's

Scientific Relaxation Taught At Beloit College Clinic

Beloit — A "clinic in scientific relaxation" for Beloit college students and faculty was inaugurated recently by the college physical education department.

The course is designed to teach them to ease and control tensions by the latest scientifically sound techniques.

The clinic's opening session Thursday night in the college field house will feature an introductory address by Oscar G. Mayer, a Beloit trustee and chairman of the Foundation for Scientific Relaxation, Inc., a foundation with headquarters in New York.

Called Pilot Project

Instructor for the series of weekly lessons will be Miss Bernardine Lufkin of the foundation's staff. The lessons utilize non-hypnotic techniques to control tensions. They were developed by Dr. Edmund Jacobson of Chicago, recognized as the world's leading expert in the field of relaxation research.

Dr. Alf Harrer, chairman of Beloit's physical education department, described the new clinic as a "pilot project" never before given at a college.

Dr. Jacobson explained that the course is designed to help students to study more effectively because "concentration is differential relaxation. This means that the student trained to relax applies the tensions needed for study, but refrains from tensions which distract."

Homework Required

"A highly tensed person generally fails to concentrate," he said. "His emotions get the better of him."

"The gist of the program is training in tension control," he said, "just as a person is differential relaxation. This means that the student trained to relax applies the tensions needed for study, but refrains from tensions which distract."

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power mind, has within mathematics. It is the other end of the pole from hypnosis. Hypnosis makes people dependent. Relaxation training makes them independent and self-confident."

Classwork in the new course is by lectures and technical instruction with the student participating. "But the homework just as in other studies," Dr. Jacobson explains. "In some cases, plenty of homework will be required. Rome wasn't built in a day."

If the program proves suc-

New Albany, Ind. — (U —) Floyd county sheriff's deputies were almost sorry they found a stolen tanker truck that had been abandoned by thieves. It contained—without a doubt—800 gallons of milk that had turned sickly sour after standing in the sun for three days.

Successful with Beloit students and faculty, Dr. Harrer says it is hoped to expand it to include townspeople and others interested.

Do We Have to Die?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and peace.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He states that this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments from the prolonging of youth, to success in many fields. To that eternal question, "Do we have to die?" his answer is astounding.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise — which reveals many startling results — to sincere readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. DISASTER PLAN READY

Not many of us think about what we would do in the event of a great disaster. We should, or we may not be ready to face the problem should it ever come. And it has come — as close to us here in Outagamie County — as Berlin and Colfax, Wisconsin. There have been disaster emergencies in Green Bay and Waupaca County within recent years. Who knows when we will be hit, what we will do.

Through the county chapter of Red Cross, we are better prepared now than we have ever been. Red Cross has a disaster plan, organized — on paper and with specific people for specific disaster jobs. It's all set and this has been explained to county and civic officials. It's good news to find we're ready.

This Red Cross Disaster Plan is complete down to the details — who would feed the people — where would medical help be found, what if clothing is needed. All of these factors have been considered, and prepared for. We are lucky to have the kinds of "neighbors" who will look ahead, get ready for trouble.

As a citizen here you only need to know the plan exists — and remember, too, that disasters keep happening around the country every year. But, Red Cross stands ready and asks only for your help through your regular annual renewal of your own Red Cross membership. This practice is 75 years old — Congress chartered Red Cross with the responsibility to be ready for all kind of emergencies and disasters.

None of this would be possible without your good help. Your membership in Red Cross is proof of your acceptance of civic responsibility. This year, make sure, enroll your entire family in a joint family membership.

Top GOP Names to Run Nixon's Race

Only Republican Candidate on Ballot Won't Appear in State

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — A blue-ribbon organization will run Vice President Richard Nixon's Wisconsin delegate campaign without the benefit of personal participation of the candidate.

Nixon campaign organization leaders, filing the Nixon delegate slate here this week, said they have no plans for bringing the vice president into the state, in sharp contrast with the eager efforts of Sens. Kennedy and Humphrey, who are stumping Wisconsin with all the ardor of a young lawyer making his first bid for district attorney.

The Nixon local spokesmen, moreover, hinted that they won't urge their man to come here before the April 5 presidential preference primary balloting.

Only Candidate

Nixon's will be the only name on the Republican side of the ballot, they reminded, and thus the election of delegates is merely a technical formality. But they also suggested that if Nixon should make a direct personal vote appeal here there may be a risk involved because of the chance that the total Democratic vote will be greater than that polled by the Republicans.

The nation's press would therefore draw some conclusions about the popularity of Nixon in a typical state that might be unwarranted, and there might be a corresponding blow to the morale of the Republican party organization. If Nixon remains in Washington, engaged in his regular duties, a possible Democratic total vote victory here would not appear so significant, according to that line of reasoning.

The Nixon delegate candidate list, meanwhile, was drawn from the ranks of the Republican organization regulars, for the most part.

All Shades

Chairman Harvey Higley of the Nixon state voluntary committee was careful to include the names of both of the announced candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, Philip Kuehn of Milwaukee and Jack B. Olson of Wisconsin Dells. Kuehn got a higher place, however, as a candidate for delegate — at-large than did Olson, who was listed as a representative for the Second district.

Some politicians might regard that ranking as a favor to Kuehn, since his name will be listed on the ballots in all of the precincts, while Olson's will be seen only in five counties. Similarly the name of Vernon W. Thomson, the last Republican governor, was significantly missing. There has been no public explanation, but it is commonly conjectured that Thomson could have had a place in the organization if he wanted it but apparently did not.

Chairman Higley of the Nixon committee led the campaign here for delegates in 1952 pledged to the nomination of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, and won a majority of the state delegation for Taft in that year. Many of the Nixon delegates of today were Taft backers eight years ago. But there are also some early Wisconsin Eisenhower boosters in the current lineup, notably former Gov. Walter J. Kohler.

Future Material

The list also has the effect of granting some recognition and promotion to several persons regarded as promising future candidate material.

Kirby Hendee of Milwaukee, a state senator listed as Nixon delegate for the Fifth district, is preparing to make a congressional campaign in that neighborhood that has been held by the Democrats for some years.

Politicians who regard Paul J. Rogan of Milwaukee, the former state insurance commissioner as a likely future candidate for high office noted with interest that he landed a place on the Nixon slate in the face of considerable competition from other claimants.

Quits as Head of Italian Senate

Rome — Cesare Merzagora, a fiery individualist, resigned as president of the senate Monday in the midst of a dispute over a speech he made about Italy's government crisis.

The industrialist and banker, sometimes mentioned as a future president of Italy, last Thursday sharply criticized the resignation of Premier Antonio Segni and charged "an atmosphere of corruption weighs upon Italian political life."

Segni resigned because his minority Christian democratic government lost the support of liberals. Merzagoras said Segni "debases parliament" by resigning before seeking a vote from the democratic government lost the support of liberals.

To Your Good Health

Woman Told to Avoid Sweets If She's Allergic to Them

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there anything that can be done for allergies other than eliminating the known causes?"

"I have had a post-nasal drip condition caused by chocolate, sweets, and tobacco smoke, mainly. The condition has become worse as I grow older. (I am 46.) I now find that one piece of frosted cake or candy can produce the effects of a head cold with earache."

"Would this condition indicate a possibility of diabetes?" — Mrs. C.L."

As I pointed out yesterday, the three methods of combating allergy are staying away from whatever causes it; desensitizing the person, if it can be done; using medications (benadryl is a basic example) to reduce the effect of the allergy.

Mrs. C.L.'s letter relates to chocolate, sweets and tobacco smoke. Unlike the problem of the girl of 12 who is allergic to milk, this allergy does not involve anything that is of importance to well-being.

Avoid Trouble

The best answer, therefore, is to avoid what causes the trouble.

Now I don't like to appear unsympathetic. Facts are facts. I'm not at all sure but that we Americans have become a little too demanding, a little too dependent on the idea that somebody will always invent something to let us do just what we want to do.

If we are allergic to chocolate, and smoking, and sweets, don't want to give them up. We want somebody to invent something, or discover something, that will let us keep right on eating (or smoking) without any consequences.

Nevertheless, I'm heartily in favor of the discovery of the ultimate secret of allergy, so that some day we will be able to make whatever corrections are necessary and to prevent some innocent food or other material from causing us to snifle, break out in a rash, or feel nauseated.

Strong Talk

If I were Mrs. C.L.'s doctor, I would be strongly inclined to talk like a "Dutch uncle," and tell her either to stay away from the things that bother her, or make up her mind to put up in silence with the consequences. Am I being too rough?

Incidentally, when she says "sweets," I'm not entirely sure what she means. If she means just plain sugar — well, I'd wonder whether it is just sugar — or whether it is sugar in concentrated doses, as in frosting on the cake, or candy. Either way, avoiding the cause is the answer.

Now about whether this condition is the result of diabetes: Usually not, but a simple test by the doctor can decide that. There's no point in guessing when finding out for sure is so easy.

See Doctor

"Dear Dr. Molner: My baby's eczema began as early as three weeks (it started on cheeks, then spread). What should I do? — E.S."

Eczema this early is probably due to food allergy — milk, wheat products, or some item in the diet. First, be sure that this is eczema and not a skin infection. See your doctor.

Social Security QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I wish you would publish this letter, but not for my answer you might give me. It's too late for you to help me. What happened to me might, however, help someone else avoid a similar sad experience. I had a maid working part-time (just three days a week for $12). I had heard about social security and asked her about it. She didn't appear to be interested in paying it, so I did nothing about it. Now eight years later, my chickens came home to roost or something. She filed a claim and I found out I was liable for her part of the tax as well as my part, plus penalty, plus interest, all the way back. Speaking from almost $300 worth of experience, I'll never have another domestic without knowing what I need to do and then doing it.

A. The problem illustrated by this letter is particularly important to women workers as many hire help to care for their children while they work. I would emphasize three facts. (1) This is not a voluntary thing and the employer is liable regardless of whether the domestic wants to pay it or not. (2) Domestic do not have to work full time to be reportable ($50 in cash wages, including any cash paid for carfare, in any 3-month calendar quarter will do it). (3) Unless a report was filed, there is no limit on how far back they can go to correct the record. I have a booklet explaining more about reporting domestic; also a form you can use to ask internal revenue for the tax forms. They are yours for the asking.

When the contract between the Insurance Agents International Union and the Prudential Insurance Company of America expired in 1958, the insurance agents did not go on strike. However, the union ordered its members to participate in a general work slowdown. The agents refused to write new business, to work scheduled hours, to make required reports and to take part in company meetings and promotion plans.

The National Labor Relations Board decided such harassing tactics constituted an illegal form of union pressure. The board had held in this and other cases that such tactics by themselves prove a lack of "good faith" which is required in union management negotiations.

However, last week the supreme court of the United States in a unanimous ruling struck down the labor board's order curbing harassing tactics. In doing so, the court said that congress intended the unions and employers to have wide latitude in their negotiations unrestricted by government regulatory powers. The court said that the NLRB in this instance had moved "into a new area of regulation which congress had not committed to it." The decision said that there was no indication "that congress had put it to the board to define through its processes what economic sanctions might be permitted negotiating parties in an 'ideal' or 'balanced' state of collective bargaining."

Scholarship Gets a Boost

A worry in most higher educational circles has been how to make room for the horde of college-bound youngsters coming up in the elementary and secondary schools of the nation. Part of the problem may be solved by the tightening of admission requirements as well as the increased emphasis upon real scholarship which is causing a higher and higher rate of drop-outs and flunk-outs around the country.

Dr. John Palfrey, dean of Columbia College, warns that the new look at the brilliant student should not pressure colleges into ignoring the average student who still is quite capable of getting through a tough program. Honors work, now being inaugurated even in the freshman year in some institutions, is fine for the exceptional student, he points out, but should not supersede a traditional program. If added "because they are fashionable" they may be put in at the "expense of the necessary foundation."

But Dr. Palfrey also points to the high schools as the place where many of the foundations should be laid. Naturally when there is criticism of educational systems, the tendency has been to pass the buck from the graduate school to the colleges to the secondary, elementary and even primary levels. But to a large extent the lower

Sticking to the Text, as Edited

The so-called press releases which politicians keep sending into newspaper offices during a campaign cannot always be relied upon. Frequently the candidates will find a new, more timely topic than the one discussed in the press release and take off on that instead of following the text sent to newspapers. You may be sure when a newspaper publishes a report of a political speech, and later discovers that the speaker said little if anything even close to the material in the advance release, there are apt to be some frank communications between the newspaper and the candidate or between the newspaper and the candidate's publicity man.

This is a problem all over the country. Both the newspaper and the candidate are put in a bad light if it appears that the politician is saying one thing on the stump and having something else published. Thus when Sen. Kennedy visited Oregon recently Gordon McNab, Portland representative of the Associated Press, asked Kennedy's press agent if the senator would stick to his advance text. The Associated Press man

What Others are Saying

Cold Facts Face Those Who Skip High School

From The Birmingham News

A study just released by Labor Sec. James Mitchell provides food for thought for our high school students — particularly those for whom the prospect of "getting out" is becoming more appealing than a diploma

For these the labor department has some facts which should be considered before an unfortunate decision is made: Unemployment among drop-outs last year was twice that of graduates; 50 per cent of graduates held clerical, sales or office jobs as compared with only 6 per cent of drop-outs, while lower-paying service and laborer jobs employed 44 per cent of drop-outs and only 18 per cent of graduates.

For girls, more than 60 per cent of graduates held clerical jobs against only 5 per cent of drop-outs; 54 per cent of drop-outs held service jobs such as waitress while only 15 per cent of graduates were so engaged. Six times as many boy graduates held clerical and sales jobs as did drop-outs; five times as many held skilled jobs. Twenty-five per cent of drop-outs held part-time jobs because they could not find full-time work; only 6 per cent of graduates were in that category.

This is not mama telling a child he has to go to school

However, the court did not get into the position of approving such tactics in a labor dispute. In fact it suggested that congress "might be of the opinion that greater stress should be put on the role of 'pure' negotiations," that is that congress could require negotiation by face to face tactics or talks instead of by pressure tactics outside of the bargaining session.

Here is an instance where the National Labor Relations Board, an agency which is required to meet all sorts of emergencies in labor disputes, came up with a rule which it hoped would improve negotiations. Nevertheless the high court has refused to permit the rule to go into effect because, as it puts it, it is the duty of congress to legislate and the duty of such agency as the National Labor Relations Board to carry out the law as enacted by congress.

However, the people of the United States now are living under hundreds of rules which have come into effect through just such efforts as the National Labor Relations Board made in this instance. The Internal Revenue Bureau supplies many such examples. However, since the court has acted in this instance but has suggested that the congress look into the possibilities of a change, it would seem wise for congress to do so. The information which the National Labor Relations Board has at hand is undoubtedly based upon long experience in the practical application of the law. It therefore is probably as good as congress could find in months of hearings.

schools must reflect the increased pressure for harder work and excellence of performance that is going on in the colleges.

This pressure seems to be happening all around the country. Lawrence, for instance, has added the College Board Achievement tests to the Scholastic Aptitude requirement for admission. St. Norbert has boosted the math requirement and reports that classes have reflected the new emphasis. Dr. Palfrey says that Columbia will require three years of a modern foreign language by 1962. The University of Wisconsin is increasingly sniffish about accepting transfers from other colleges which are unable to maintain good grades. The state college faculties concede that they are tightening class work and they have established a committee to study and recommend new consistent admission standards.

If even half of all the youngsters who plan to go on to college are to make it, the high schools particularly will have to place increased emphasis upon scholarship, basic disciplinary courses, and an awakening of a realization in college-bound students that hard work is essential. Most secondary administrators and boards are doing exactly that. Now it is up to parents and the general public to recognize that non-essentials must be dropped.

said he had a story on the wire and there would be complications if parts of it went unspoken. Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press representative, assured the AP that Kennedy had been following his text closely since he announced his presidential candidacy. Within a few minutes before speech time, Salinger advised the AP that a time problem would force some cuts in the speech. He asked the AP what it had on the wire as an advance and was given a marked copy of the text. The AP says "not only did Kennedy follow it in delivery, he later told McNab, 'you did a fine job of cutting my speech for me.'"

This was a switch so unusual that it was given prominence in the Associated Press log which is distributed to newspapers across the country. It probably does not offer a pattern which politicians will be able to follow often in the future, but it does emphasize the need for politicians and their press representatives to give more than a little attention to seeing that advance press releases and the actual spoken words coincide.

Cold Facts Face Those Who Skip High School

From The Birmingham News

A study just released by Labor Sec. James Mitchell provides food for thought for our high school students — particularly those for whom the prospect of "getting out" is becoming more appealing than a diploma

For these the labor department has some facts which should be considered before an unfortunate decision is made: Unemployment among drop-outs last year was twice that of graduates; 50 per cent of graduates held clerical, sales or office jobs as compared with only 6 per cent of drop-outs, while lower-paying service and laborer jobs employed 44 per cent of drop-outs and only 18 per cent of graduates.

because it's for his own good. These are hard, cold facts — and unfortunately the drop-out, the quitter, is going to find that as the years go by they will get harder and colder.

Educational requirements of prospective employers, already high, are sure to increase as this nation's technological pace and general mechanization and automation increase.

The high school student tempted by the lure of $40 or $50 a week, more money by far than he's ever had, will do himself a favor by stopping to think not twice but 10 times before he makes up his mind.

His decision will not simply affect his course for a few months or years — it will affect his whole working life and, unavoidably, the lives of his family as he faces in years ahead the problems of rearing and providing for children of his own.

Former Menasha Mayor Against Sale of Old High School Site

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The recent sale of the old (Menasha) high school site is another example where private interest takes precedence over public interest, with little respect for the people or community interest. The past administrations have done much for the present by providing property for public buildings, parks and schools, so must the present administration of today plan for the future. The payments the public will be required to make in the long unending future for planning failures or insufficient planning will result in tremendous costs and may have to be paid in large part by a public yet unborn for failure of the present administration to guard, develop, and preserve property that has been held in public trust since March 1936.

This property and location was ideal for a community or civic center or city hall capable of housing all departments of city government including the library and the water and light department. I know that many of you people are disturbed about the sale of the property and rightfully you should be by the mis-

Comforting to Know There Is Safety Somewhere

From The Chicago Tribune

Swiss scientist Jacques Piccard, traveling in the navy's new bathyscaph, descended seven miles to the deepest known spot in the ocean the other day. Returning to the surface, he reported seeing nothing more frightening than a few silvery fish, about a foot long and a lot of little creatures that looked like shrimp.

The stories of enormous and eerie monsters and other terrors of the cold and inky deep, he said, seemed to be nothing but figments of the imagination.

With man-made dangers looming all over the surface of our planet and even out into space, it is reassuring to know that we can still find safety in the cozy, if not so warm, depths of the sea. Anybody know where we can get a five passenger bathyscaph, with kitchenette, for a reasonable price?

Curbing Retired Officers' 'Influence Peddling' Asked

From The Washington Post

The house armed services subcommittee which has recommended additional rules to curb possible "influence peddling" by retired military officers has done an excellent job, we think, of keeping this difficult matter in perspective. It might have concentrated on a narrow search for specific instances of apparent wrongdoing and neglected the broader but more significant picture which it has unfolded. This is that the great majority of the large defense contractors employ high-ranking retired officers, creating a situation in which the opportunities for undue influence upon the award of government contracts clearly are widespread.

Of course it might be argued that since nearly every big company is involved, none has an advantage over the others and the practice even tends to be self-policing. But while this consideration may indeed account for the seeming absence of any serious abuses, it does not obviate the fact that the special knowledge and experience of many former high-ranking public servants are now at the disposal of

Kennedy, Humphrey 'Old Pro' Campaigners

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — To the ambitious local politician and the curious student of affairs there is a good deal to be learned about the art of politics and political campaigning from the efforts of the presidential aspirants now busily courting Wisconsin votes before the presidential primary.

These are masters, men who have survived long years of struggle and maneuver in their own states, who have risen to heady heights on the national scene, and now are making the plunge for the greatest political prize in the world.

The attentive on-looker can learn of many things — of the value of symbolism, of the art of machine organization, of the science of calculated spontaneity, of the indispensable virtues of publicity and how it is managed, as well as some of the more sobering facts of contemporary political life such as the essentiality of money in great gobs.

THE SYMBOLS

Take the matter of symbolism. The Humphrey headquarters decided that the "democratic way" was for the election of delegate candidates in popular conventions, in open competition, and with secret ballots available to anybody who wanted to come. The Kennedy people thought the idea was such an appealing one that they promptly borrowed it, without a thank you or an apology.

Both candidates have had a good deal of publicity mileage out of the device. It has scarcely been noted that both, however, are so unsure private interests and in potential conflict with the public interest.

The subcommittee proposes that retired officers register with the Pentagon any employment by defense contractors, that they be barred for two years after retirement or resignation from jobs directly or indirectly involving "selling" to the defense department (with "selling" to be broadly defined) and that a code of ethical conduct be prescribed which would permanently bar retired officers from activities of various kinds that are too closely related to or based upon special knowledge gained in the service. Such requirements would not of course insure against all wrong-doing. But they seem to provide a fair balancing of the public interest and the private rights of retired public servants. They would set a wholesome framework for defense procurement activities, minimizing the occasions for possible conflicts of interest.

Discouraging To Know Space Travel Limits

From The Wall Street Journal

It's getting pretty discouraging. Just as the government is speeding up its space program, along come the scientists with another damper on the pioneer spirit of opening the galaxies to exploration and development.

The American Astronautical society has just been told by Dr. Elliot Bendick that in addition to the sound barrier, the radiation barrier, the particle bombardment barrier and all the rest there is a "disintegration barrier" out there in space. It seems that no matter how hard we try we can't go any farther than 588 trillion miles.

It's things like this that keep giving us claustrophobia.

English Director Sets Plans to Film Othello

Shakespearean Tale to be Brought Into Modern Times; Poitier to Star

BY JINGO
The films are making use of another of Shakespeare's great plays. Peter Glenville, the English director, is being backed by United Artists to shoot a version of "Othello" in Italy.

So great was the Bard's insight into human character — and never greater than in his tragedy by the jealous Moor — that producers have successfully taken his plays out of their chronological context and staged them as contemporary pieces.

Glenville is planning to do this. He's changing the heroine's name from Desdemona to Desira and making it the title role. The Moor and his ensign will become air force officers stationed in Italy.

The big news is the first star he's signed, Sidney Poitier as the Moor. The young actor has given notice that he is building a constellation of stellar performances on stage and screen that will not dim for many years.

Gower Champion, who disappointed the Fox Cities a few years ago by failing to appear in a Neenah Rotary scholarship series show, is dropping out of active dancing in favor of choreography. His current effort is directing Judy Holliday's dances for "Happily," the musical version of the Marguerite Courtney biography of Laurette Taylor, the Pollyanna girl who ended her checked career on the high point of "The Glass Menagerie."

If there is any truth in the fable of a cinema-television war, it's a war with an annual truce. David Niven, the top 1958 actor, is appearing on neighborhood theater screens urging audiences to stay home April 4 so they can watch this year's Oscarcast.

Like the river, Jack Benny keeps rolling along. His sponsor signed the Waukegan Kid for another year before negotiating with any of the rest of his substantial stable.

But there will be a change next year for Benny. He is transferring to NBC. It is said Jack would not stand for CBS' ban on electronically augmented studio reaction. The old pro wants complete control of his meticulously produced show — even down to the audience.

The best-selling novel "Exodus" was recognized as film material by Dore Schary when he was the big lion at MGM and he bought the film rights. Then he was fired and MGM decided to pass up the film. Otto Preminger, an independent producer, picked up the smash at bargain-basement cost.

Legislation Not Key to Honest Government

Integrity, Not Gifts, Determines Conduct in Office

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Can honesty be legislated? This is the challenging question that comes to the fore when a report such as has just been presented to congress endeavors to deal with the problem of so-called "conflict of interest."

A committee of eminent lawyers from the Association of the Bar of the City of New York has completed a 2-year study which recommends certain changes in existing laws to prevent employees of the government from being improperly influenced in their public duties through gifts, previous business connections, or stock ownership.

"We need a long-run national policy," says the report, "which neither sacrifices governmental integrity for opportunism nor drowns practical staffing needs in moralism. We need a careful regulatory scheme that effectively restrains official conflicts of interest without generating pernicious side effects on recruitment. The basic conclusion of the committee is that such a scheme can be worked out.

With all due respect to the men who prepared this report, it doesn't go to the root of the problem. Honesty cannot be legislated any more than efficiency can be defined in a statute. Even if all the proposals of the bar association committee were adopted, this would not reach the real difficulty — the dishonest mind.

Retain Law Associations
A man who owns stock in a company, from which he resigned or retired in order to accept a government post, can be compelled by law to sell his stock or to put it in trust to others. But does this mean he will forget his friendships and turn a cold shoulder to his former associates, just because he has given up his stock?

What shall be said about members of congress who retain a connection with their former law firms, even though they are careful not to accept any income from cases involving the government? Is the continuance of their names on the law firm's stationery an inducement to prospective clients?

Must the recipient, if he is in public office, assume that the purpose of a gift is to influence him improperly? Then what about gifts made to individuals before they entered the government service? Are the donors forever to be pre-empted from contacting former friends on business matters.

No Proof
No proof ever was adduced that the gifts Sherman Adams received from a personal friend of long standing influenced him to do anything that he couldn't have done with propriety for any other constituent or for any other citizen with similar cases pending before government agencies. Yet Mr. Adams was crucified in the court of public opinion and his career irreparably damaged by something that is called "guilt by association" when the same sort of suspicion happens to fall upon a communist sympathizer.

The problem is encountered every day by public servants in government from the highest federal office down to the smallest post in county or city government.

Laws prohibiting government officials from accepting gifts are the wrong approach. Every department head already has the right to issue rules and regulations that draw attention to the risks inherent in the acceptance of gifts or favors from persons who do business with the government. If such rules are violated, the employee can be dismissed, and, if the government has been defrauded he can be prosecuted. There is no need for a complex set of laws when, after all is said and done, the remedy requires only a simple injunction demanding honesty and integrity from every person who serves the government. Reformatory Inmate Flees, Is Recaptured

Man Steals Two Cars Before Absence Is Noticed by Officials

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — An escapee from the Wisconsin state reformatory was returned to the institution later Monday after he stole two cars and was recaptured by police at Wausau.

The escapee, James Neuburn, 28, left the reformatory early Monday morning apparently by scaling the perimeter wall, but his absence was not noticed during the morning. It was thought that Neuburn may have been covering the story of the death of another inmate as a reporter for the institution newspaper. Three reformatory officers whose guard assignments apparently were related to the failure to detect Neuburn's absence were immediately suspended, pending the outcome of an investigation of the escape.

Trusty Status

The youth, an inmate of the reformatory for more than two years, had achieved trusty status, Supt. M. A. Skaiff explained that Neuburn was a staff member of the "Bay Banner," and had free movement privileges within the institution.

Skaiff said that Neuburn escaped apparently between 5 and 5:30 a.m. but his absence was not detected in the inmate count at 6 a.m.

The means of Neuburn's departure was uncertain. He told Wausau police that he grasped some utility wires to climb over the high north wall. However, this mode is somewhat doubted by reformatory authorities, who questioned whether the wires would have held the weight of a man. The escapee was to be questioned further at the reformatory.

Steals Two Cars

After leaving the reformatory in Allouez, Neuburn eventually went to the west side of Green Bay where he stole a car in the 800 block of S. Chestnut avenue.

This car was abandoned in Wausau where a second car was stolen. Neuburn was apprehended by police there after he wrecked the second vehicle. Wausau police telephoned reformatory officials about the capture at 11 a.m., when the institution first learned of the escape.

Neuburn, from Omaha, Nebr., entered the reformatory on Feb. 7, 1958 upon conviction of two counts of armed robbery in Milwaukee county. He was serving two concurrent 20-year terms. He now will face escape and auto theft charges in municipal court here.

Plenty of Activity

Monday One of Those Days (and Nights) at Outagamie County Jail

BY JAY REED

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It was one of those days (and nights) at the Outagamie county jail Monday.

And it all began when three people decided they could rob a bank. They failed.

At 1 p.m. things were relatively quiet at the jail. Turnkey Walter Oestereich and Clerk Louis Micheln had things to do, however. A mentally deranged man had been brought in for transfer to Winnebago State hospital. The man was not violent but was given to singing in an extremely loud voice and loping around the jail corridors.

Bank Suspects

About that time, while Micheln and Oestereich were trying to calm the man, Undersheriff Donald Heinritz radioed that he was bringing in two of the suspects from the Nichols bank holdup.

A few minutes later reporters and photographers arrived to cover the bank suspects. Additional officers who had been at the holdup scene arrived. The small ante-room which holds the jail's book-in counter was crowded.

Meanwhile the mental patient still was loping through the halls singing.

Then Heinritz, the bank suspects and several FBI agents arrived.

FBI Agents

Heinritz was surrounded by reporters and photographers. The suspects were hustled into interrogation rooms. Phones rang continually.

More FBI agents arrived. And more local authorities.

Oestereich finished his tour of duty and went home—tired. At last the third bank robber suspect arrived—accompanied by more law enforcement officers.

Later in the afternoon, Lt. Jack Frenzl, Brown County Sheriff Artley Skendore and several other Brown county officials came to the jail with two suspects in an attack case. The book-in procedure was difficult for Jailer Tony Van Wymeren. He had little room to write.

Held Hearing

Early in the evening it was determined that the arraignment of the bank robbery suspects before U. S. Commissioner Stanley Gabert would be held in an interrogation room in the jail.

The suspects were brought in one by one, advised of their rights and charges read. While this was going on Outagamie County Patrolman Calvin Spice brought in two men who had been in an accident. One was to be booked for drunken driving.

Suddenly, as Gabert intoned the charges against one of the bank suspects, the drunken driver suspects, the came abusive and a fight developed between the man and a policeman. Several other policemen joined in and the man was carried to a cell.

It Was Over

Then, suddenly, it was over. The room was quiet for the first time in over six hours. A reporter stayed behind and watched.

He saw Leonard Leplay, paroled murderer and suspected bank robber, being booked. He answered the questions quickly but looked tired and slightly confused.

His fingers softly caressed a cigaret—the same fingers which a few hours before held a sawed-off shotgun.

A son was born to Airman and Mrs. Charles Ebert at walk slowly back to her cell Klamath Falls, Ore., Feb. 27, speaking rapidly of her 5-year-old Mrs. Ebert is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp, Sugar Bush.

bank robbery efforts, shuffle toward his cell—a lonely old man who had crouched in the darkness of a car trunk armed with a high-powered rifle. He was older still because of the events of this day.

er, the rapist will be eligible for parole. They explained that they have not as yet begun to work on his records since he has just arrived at the prison and added the sex deviate law, an important factor in his case, ultimately must be considered.

In addition to the eight consecutive and concurrent terms totaling 80 years, Spanbauer could receive an additional 30 years for his rape of a 16-year-old babysitter in the Green Bay home of Alton Cardinal Jan. 12, and 15 years for his attempted rape of a 12-year-old Appleton girl on the same date.

This is contingent on what decision is made by psychiatrists and physicians at the Central State hospital, Wausau, where Spanbauer will undergo physical, mental, and social tests for the next 60 days to determine whether he is a sex deviate.

May Be Returned

If declared a deviate, Spanbauer may not be returned to the court for sentencing but will serve his sentences in the other cases at both the prison and the adjoining hospital. If found not to be a deviate, however, he must be returned to court for sentencing as required by Wisconsin law.

In passing sentence against Spanbauer, Judge Gleason strongly recommended that there be no parole.

"Any parole of this defendant would be attended by great danger," the judge said. "The court urges future parole boards not to minimize these sentences nor the gravity of the crimes in considering parole."

Judge Gleason retired to his chambers for more than a half hour Tuesday before returning to the bench to pass sentence.

Describing his responsibility for sentencing Spanbauer as a solemn duty, the judge said that "punishment in this case must be of such a nature to deter others from committing such aggravated crimes in the future."

Rose Bowl Pact Rejected By Big Ten

Evanston, Ill. — (AP) — The Big Ten rejected renewal of the Rose bowl pact today when Northwestern university came out against the proposal.

This made the lineup five Big Ten schools for the pact and five against. A majority would have been required to keep the pact effective.

However, under Big Ten rules, any member of the conference still could accept an invitation to participate in a Rose bowl football game. This is because of the tie.

Ray C. Johnson, NAIA district chairman who also is athletic director of Stout State, said that Oshkosh received six votes in a poll of the conference's 10 members.

The poll was necessary after the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, the conference champion, was named to an NCAA college regional tournament berth and Oshkosh, Platteville and Eau Claire wound up with 8-4 records for a second place tie.

Oshkosh will play the winner of Wednesday night's game at Stevens Point between St. Norbert and Northland for the right to represent Wisconsin in the NAIA tournament March 7-12 at Kansas City. The state playoff game will be in Oshkosh Friday.

"Multilateral agreements can be achieved if each nation of the hemisphere has confidence that it need not fear unprovoked aggression."

Heavy Schedule
Pronounced fit despite the fast pace of his South American tour, the president launched into another heavy schedule on the second day of his stop in this Pacific coast nation.

Prior to his appearance before congress he told 1,200 American residents and members of Chilean-American organizations that the United States "wants every American republic to become strong economically as well as politically and socially."

"We know that only strong nations in our divided world can be sure of retaining their precious freedom," he said.

There was no contradiction in the American policy of non-intervention in other nations' affairs with its fostering of "freedom and representative democracy throughout the hemisphere," he told the Americans.

The president told congress the United States was sympathetic to Latin American plans for some form of common market or regional market which would lower trade barriers between its members.

Would Increase Trade
But he stressed that a common market should be designed to increase not only regional trade but the level of world trade as well.

Taking note of Alessandri's suggestion that effective means be found to reduce armament burdens in Latin America, Eisenhower said "the quest for peace is the imperative of our time."

He referred to the 1947 Rio de Janeiro treaty which pledges that an armed attack against one nation of the hemisphere will be considered an attack against all and declared: "My government supports this solemn agreement."

In seeking a better world for the future, he said, young people "must possess more than technical competence. They must develop inter-cultural understanding, possess high spiritual values and in-

Two hotels, and possibly three, and a dormitory for French communications workers collapsed.

The U.S., French and Moroccan air forces mobilized a massive airlift to evacuate the injured to Casablanca and other cities and bring in relief supplies.

Victims Wait at Base
Hundreds of injured were reported waiting at the French air base outside Agadir. The base apparently escaped serious damage.

The French navy ordered all its ships in the area to Agadir at top speed. The port city is on the Atlantic, 265 miles southwest of Casablanca.

King Mohammed V of Morocco in a personal broadcast asked that all cities of Morocco mobilize aid. He flew to the scene with his son, Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, and several cabinet ministers.

The U.S. and French ambassadors also flew to Agadir. The American ambassador made $10,000 worth of relief aid available immediately.

The commander of the U.S. Air Base in Ben Guerir, 100 miles from Agadir, flew to the

He also touched on that subject in his speech in a downtown theater to his fellow Americans. He told the Americans it was heartening to meet individuals who actually are practicing a "people to people program."

Hollywood Writer, Actor Buried Today

Hollywood —Funeral rites will be conducted today for Carl Harbaugh, 74, film writer-director and early day actor.

Harbaugh died Friday at the Motion Picture Country home and hospital in Woodland Hills.

He starred on Broadway as "Handsome Harry" in "Girl of the Golden West" and later played opposite Theda Bara in the silent film version of "Carmen."

Harbaugh wrote scenarios for Buster Keaton, Douglas Fairbanks, Laurel and Hardy, Mary Pickford and Charles Chase.

station in Agadir, heard in Casablanca. Telephone communication with the city was knocked out.

The initial shock was felt in Safi, 130 miles up the coast from Agadir.

The U.S. ambassador to Morocco announced a gift of $10,000 in disaster aid, and the commander of the U.S. base at Ben Guerir flew to the stricken city. All five American bases in Morocco were put on an emergency status to join in the aid work.

It was the second major earthquake to hit North Africa in less than two weeks. More than 40 persons were killed in a quake Feb. 21 at Malousa, in Algeria.

Agadir is the gateway to the fertile Sous agricultural region and a shipping point for molybdenum, manganese, cobalt, zinc and lead mined in the nearby hinterland. The history of the old, native city stretches back so far its origins are uncertain, and it has been a port for shipping to and from Europe since about 1500.

The first shock was the strongest and caught many persons asleep in their beds. Walls caved in on them before they could escape.

ate vote to back up the leaders.

Only six southern Democrats supported the motion. It was opposed by 27 Republicans and 28 Democrats.

Disturbed Over Delay
The Oregon senator said he was disturbed at failure of the senate to get a quorum quickly just before he made his motion.

It required 48 minutes to round up the necessary 51 senators after the southernfilibuster the civil rights measure to death, pulled the surprise quorum call.

The quorum was obtained only after Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had moved, and the senate had voted, to direct the sergeant at arms to round up absentees.

Two hours earlier, when the southerners made their first middle of the night quorum call the civil rights forces came up with a much better showing. That time they produced a quorum in 21 minutes. The long-talking southerners got to rest while 51 senators are herded in.

With the vote on Morse's motion out of the way, Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.) resumed the filibuster for the southerners, making an all-out fight to rights advocates were absent too.

Candidates Absent
Three Democratic presidential contenders—Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo)—were not present for the vote on Morse's motion.

The Oregon senator said he had been told some members had taken their phones off the hooks so they could not even be reached at home.

Hill appeared to catch senators by surprise with the second off-hours quorum call at 5:45 a.m.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D-NC) had been holding the floor but sat down suddenly after Hill went to his desk and whispered to him. The Alabama then called for a quorum.

Jordan devoted his entire address to reading testimony on civil rights before the senate rules committee.

The North Carolinian appeared to grow hoarse after an hour and a half although he sipped water constantly. He had used one hour and 53 minutes when he quit.

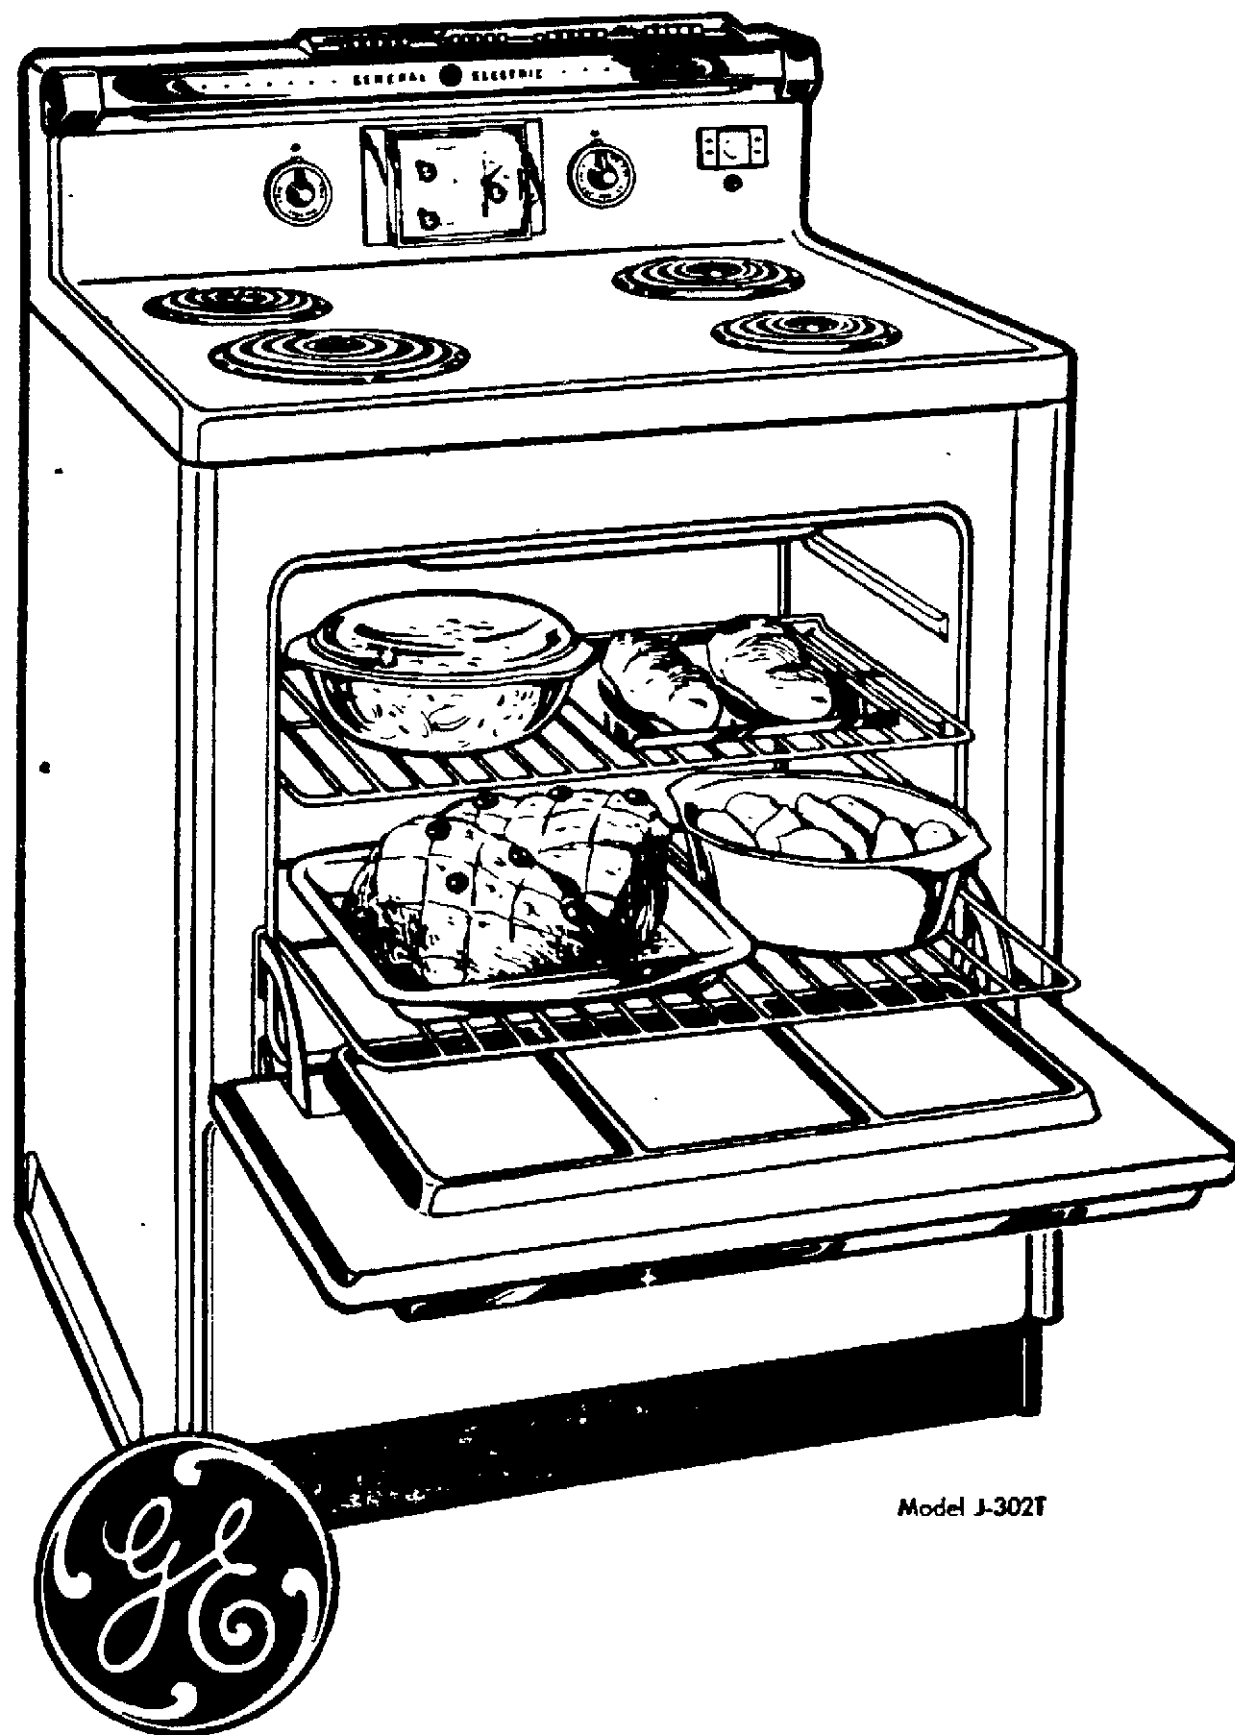

Only 46 senators appeared during the roll call of names for the 5:45 quorum.

Johnson then made his motion to round up absent senators but the needed five came in after about 25 minutes. The fifty-first happened to be a southerner, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.).

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) answered both night time quorum calls wearing a brilliant red dress and red shoes.

Your Problems

Leeching Son Uses Key, Roosts Part-Time in Father's Castle

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: My husband's 18-year-old son by a former marriage lives in this town with his mother.

The boy (I'll call him Howard) is not close to his father. I've never said one word against the boy although I feel he uses his Ann Landers dad only as a cash register.

Howard has a key to our home. Last night we left a party early because I didn't feel well. We walked into a pitch-dark house and found Howard and a girl in the living room. His shoes and tie were off, hair a mess, lipstick on his face and so on. The girl was a little chippie who couldn't have been more than 15.

I've been careful not to talk against the boy but I don't approve of this. Do I have the right to speak up?—Not His Mother

Dear Not: Maybe you're not his mother, but the home is half yours and you have the right to complain when someone fouls your nest.

Your husband should insist that Howard surrender his key. Now that you know what goes on, failure to lower the boom would be tantamount to silent approval of his immoral conduct.

Encourage the boy to bring nice girls to the house to meet you—when you're at home.

main silent but it's been a struggle.

The thing that frosts me especially is his raving about her great beauty. I never knew this woman but I've seen loads of pictures and believe me that's stretching it a little.

I'm no Princess Grace, but I'm at least as pretty as his wife was. I suppose I want to hear him say it—but he doesn't. Is it fair that I should be made to feel like a rival to a dead woman?—No. 2 wife

Dear No. 2: The rivalry is only in your mind. It's impossible to compete with someone who doesn't exist.

Shakespeare said "The evil that men do lives after them. The good is oft interred with their bones." I think the opposite is true. The tendency is to remember the good and forget the rest.

Your husband's mental image of his first wife improves with age. Say nothing to mar the picture or you'll demean yourself in his eyes.

DEAR ANN: I'm a high school senior who plans to go into missionary nursing as a career.

My idea of a good date is a boy who will talk sense. I don't like drag-racing, rock and roll or movie-star gossip. I'm interested in religion, service to others, good books.

Tell Truth of Pat Jacobs, — Kenneth Barker

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs, route 3, Kaukauna, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Pat, to Kenneth Barker, son of Mrs. Howard Barker, 902 Appleton road, Menasha.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Kaukauna High school and is employed at Jewelers

My girl friends say I'd better keep these ideals to myself or I'll never land a boy friend. To be honest, I haven't had many dates and the boys who have taken me out haven't called back.

I'd like to have dates but I'm not willing to pretend an interest in things that bore me. Must a girl compromise these days?—Out of it

Dear Out: No you don't. There are boys who share your interest. You just haven't found one yet—but you will.

Don't lower your standards or feign enthusiasm for things that bore you because you think this will make you popular. You wouldn't be happy with the company you'd attract and more important, you wouldn't be happy with yourself.

More Respect for Elders Needed in World Today

BY ANGELO PATRI
"Marcia," said the teacher of English, "this is a fine piece of work on the history of this town. I have asked the editor of the newspaper to publish it and he says he will be pleased to do so if you agree."

"I'd love it, Miss June. If he does, will you please ask him to credit Grandmother and Grandfather? They told me what I wrote down. It is their memories of this town, years back. They'd like being recognized that way."

So of course they were recognized and of course they liked it.

What amazed the teacher was a student asking that her grandparents be recognized as having done something worthwhile. In her experience, and in that of many others today, old people are ignored.

Loss of Morals

I think this is one of the indications of a loss of moral consciousness that is bedeviling this country today. Instead of bowing to the experience, the wisdom, the accomplishments of the aged, we refuse them so much as a place in the community, in the labor market, even in the family.

The labor market wants none of them because of pension plans. Many of the older workers would work without regard to such plans, work part-time, anything so they could get out of that chair and be counted among the members of the human family.

There was once a granny in our family whose presence was a benediction. She did anything she was able to do to help any member of the family. The door to her room was always open and the children went in and out to tell their stories of woe or joy and be listened to with respect and understanding. She mended their belongings, told them stories pat to the occasion out of her childhood. She never seemed outdated, never in the way. There are many who would be like her today, given the chance.

Give Them a Place

Of course all grandparents are not angelic in disposition. Who would be in their stead? Given a place, a share in things, allowed to be useful and helpful according to their talents, they might be closer to the angels than anybody dreams.

It seems to me that if children were taught to respect the words of their older relatives, to understand that they know things that the children have yet to learn about, that they have things to say that they need to hear and take to heart, there would be less trouble with adolescents and more peace in many a school and family today.

Only Child Objects to Parents' Over-Interest

BY VIVIAN BROWN

"Parents seem to expect more of an only child than they should," writes a 16-year-old Midwestern girl who says that up until now she has been "performing like a trained seal for them."

She doesn't object to their affection and interest, but she thinks that when there is just one child at home, the parent has nothing else to do but worry about her.

"Why can't my mother let me enjoy friendships, without trying to control my every move?" she asks. "She hovers over me when boys are around and acts like I'm not appreciated if the boy doesn't fall all over me."

"My father sometimes sits in his car, watching from a distance to make sure that the boy leaves a dance with me. Then he hurries home and tries to get the car in the garage before we drive up to the house. This really puts a crimp in an evening because the boys always know what he is up to."

Gilded Cage

"My parents take offense if I am not invited to every party that goes on in town. They can't imagine anyone not loving me as they do, I guess."

"What bothers me is the prospect of this sort of thing

Before serving, insert a parsley sprig at the top of the carrot.

Model Brows

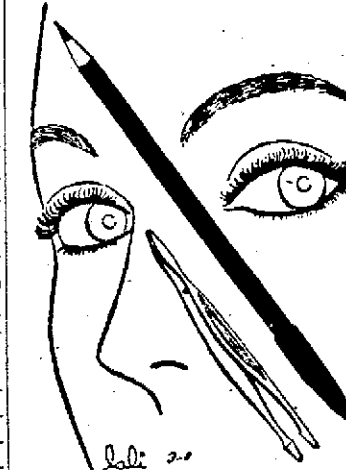

Clinically speaking, eyebrows have no other purpose than to protect the eye areas. But cosmetically speaking — that's another story. When perfectly groomed and proportioned, a woman's eyebrows greatly enhance her eyes and her face.

Grooming is a simple matter. You merely have to brush the brows into line each time you make up, and if they are unruly, between times.

But the acquisition of proportioned brows for the have-nots is a bit more complicated. First off, you must envision the shape of a model brow. Ideally, it extends from a point over the inside corner of the eye socket to the outside corner. Too, it should form a natural arch of generous width.

Now how can such a brow be acquired? The answer is in a skilled hand with tweezers and pencil.

Skill with tweezers means never overtweezing. Pluck only the offenders under the brow and the stragglers between. To shape the top line, use a brush. As for penciling, it entails a feather touch — light, short strokes following the direction of growth. Only be subtle, and you will be successful!

Pair Argues Over Telling Exact Truth

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is a firm believer in telling the truth at all times even when the truth means hurting someone's feelings. When someone asks him if he likes something, he tells them exactly what he thinks whether it is complimentary or not. I, on the other hand, always say something is nice whether I think so or not. We have had many an argument over this and whenever someone asks his opinion about something I hold my breath in fear of what he is going to say. Doesn't courtesy exact that if we don't think so rather than offend someone?

Answer: You certainly avoid saying something that is disagreeable when you possibly can, but you don't tell lies in order to be polite. In other words, you evade the truth by finding something pleasant to say about whatever it is that isn't a lie.

Bus Fare

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like you to settle a point of etiquette. I am 15 years old and go out occasionally with a 16-year-old boy. Whenever we get on a bus, he always hands me my fare to put in the coin box. I think this is wrong and that he should pay both our fares while I walk to the back. Will you please tell me who is right?

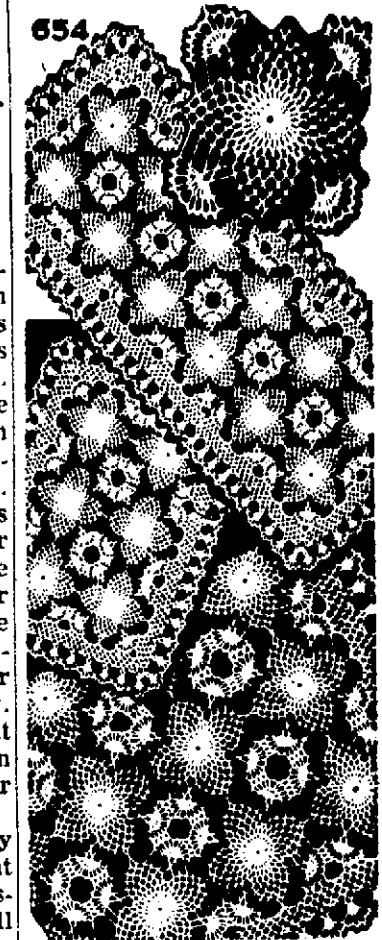

Answer: You are right. He should not hand you the money but put both fares in the box.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what I can say to a neighbor who is always gossiping about someone in the neighborhood? I get along well with all of my neighbors and like most of them very much and cannot stand to listen to idle gossip about them. I do hope you have a solution to this problem.

Answer: The only thing I know is to try to change the subject when she begins gossiping. If this doesn't help, then say politely, but firmly, "I'm sorry, but I'm very fond of Mary and don't want to hear anything against her."

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

What a wonderful day when baby first holds up his little head alone. Even more wonderful, the day when that little body is strong enough to sit up and take notice. But long before your cherub manages these mighty accomplishments, he (or she) will be needing protein foods. For proteins are the nutrients that help baby develop the muscles he needs to perform these feats.

Meat, of course, is one of the best sources of complete proteins and Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are rich in these vital body-builders. Only selected Armour cuts are used. After careful trimming, they're specially processed to remove most of the fat, so even tiny babies can digest them easily. What's more, they're 100% pure meat, with just enough broth left in to brighten flavors and give a smooth, moist texture.

Important: Armour meat protein is complete protein, supplying all the essential amino acids that build and rebuild body tissues.

Temperate zones. Even though chill winds whistle outside, it's wise to keep a temperate climate inside. An overheated house is not good for baby. Your darling will be most comfortable at 72 degrees when awake—60 degrees when asleep.

Another savory way to give baby protein, pure eating pleasure, too: Gerber Strained and Junior High Meat Dinners. These delicious "main dishes" combine lots of protein-rich meat with selected, garden-good vegetables. The result? Exceptionally good flavor and a generous assortment of nutrients, including substantial amounts of niacin, an important B-vitamin.

Don't forget Gerber High Protein Cereal—the cereal with a whopping 35% protein content and nutlike flavor. For you: Gerber High Protein Cereal is wonderful for breadings, chops or croquettes. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Collegians Thrill Series Audience

By Marguerite Schumann

It was an anniversary on the Lawrence Community Artist series last evening — the 30th time that the Lawrence college choir appeared on the same concert list with the nation's most distinguished artists — and the 30th time that it proved to be their equal.

Such an anniversary seems a good time to look back and take stock, for even in these troubled days it is not always possible to see where we are going, we can more readily look back and see where we have been.

The Lawrence college choir has been a lot of places in 30 years. This has been achieved in spite of the college's firm view that students should go to college instead of being off gallivanting for propaganda purposes.

Many Tours

Over the years, the choir has been heard beneath the echoing gothic arches of Rockefeller chapel at the University of Chicago, in the gilded vastness of Orchestra hall, and next week will invade Chicago's new glass landmark, the Prudential building. At the other extreme it has sung in dozens of modest high schools and churches not far from home. The choir has wolfed cherry pie in the Sturgeon Bay High school gymnasium, and shared a gourmet buffet supper with Clare Boothe Luce.

It has erupted with measles and sailor suits, during days of epidemic and days of war respectively. It has given inspiration to Lawrence's two Ivy League presidents — Drs. Wriston and Pusey; it once almost shared a platform with King Peter of Yugoslavia. It was a Lawrence choir tour that launched Ben Gage on a career in entertainment; it has been the extra-curricular aspect of many a choir tour that has cemented dozens of Lawrentian marriages.

Indeed the choir is an institution, and last evening—from the platform of Memorial chapel which has always been its home base—it summarized its traditional past and its dynamic present.

Last evening, the Lawrence choir demonstrated just how seriously it does take the art of song. Headlined on the program were four works composed expressly for it. Under Director LaVahn Maesch, the choir is no longer merely a re-creator of music, but one for which new music is written.

Lawrence Roots

Most interesting to many were the two compositions which have their roots in Lawrence, from faculty member James Ming and former faculty member William Ward. The students in Lawrence music theory classes have indeed been sitting at the feet of masters in these two men.

Ming's work, a stunning Missa Brevis was given an arresting performance by a brass ensemble and the Lawrence Singers, elite corps within the choir. It has biting, vital harmonies and a tightly knit pattern. The brass choir provided solid bands of sound between the choral sections, and at other times reinforced the ensemble with real brilliance. Running less than ten minutes, the work is a microcosm of a longer ecclesiastical form, and gains great power therefrom. Ming's writing is a mature and significant talent, and let this constitute a public urging for him to produce more voluminously.

William Ward's Psalm CXXXVI—"Oh Be Joyful" is an exciting bundle of rhythms given particularly acid drama by a 4-handed piano accompaniment. The vigor and unconventionality of many of the phrases invest it with a near-beatnik quality.

The rest of the program consisted largely of church music, contemporary serious writers, and songs of the people in Latvia, Mexico and America.

Maesch led his talented young squadron, as always, in clean-patterned excitement and a fresh, shining tone. As the Lawrence choir goes into its fourth decade, it sings difficult music with high style and conviction.

Rev. Simon Officiates at Marriage

Miss Mary Helen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller, 318 W. Seventh street, became the bride of James F. Freiman, Milwaukee, at 4 p.m. Saturday at Faith Lutheran church. The Rev. H. E. Simon officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Her husband graduated from Sturgeon Bay High school and also attended Central State college, where he was affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon. He is employed by Krause Milling company in Milwaukee.

Senator Plans Visit Kennedy's Sister in Waupaca County

New London — Mrs. Peter Lawford, sister of Sen. John Kennedy, aspirant for Democratic nomination for president, was the senator's good will ambassador here Monday when a tea and reception was held in her honor at the Elwood hotel.

Highlight of her visit was the announcement that Sen. Kennedy will visit New London March 11 on a campaign tour through Wisconsin. He will be at the Washington High school auditorium at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lawford visited with Waupaca county women at teas and coffees at Waupaca, New London, Clintonville, Weyauwega, Manawa and Shawano Monday.

Family Campaign

Mrs. Lawford said the campaign is becoming a family affair. Her two sisters, Mrs. Sergeant Shriver and Mrs. Jean Smith, and her brothers Robert and Edward Kennedy will be and are working to gain support for Sen. Kennedy.

At Waupaca she told ladies "I'm here because you don't get much help unless you ask for it—and I'm asking for your help in the April 5 primary."

Dressed in a uniform-type purple suit set off by a double strand of pearls and small "Kennedy" buttons on each lapel, the wife of the noted actor talked easily with women along the route.

Mrs. Lawford and her husband reside at Santa Monica, Calif. She is the mother of three youngsters and is active in politics on the coast.

Actor-Husband

She said that her actor husband, Peter Lawford, will be coming to Wisconsin March 14. He also will be one of the senator's campaigners.

She reported that she will be in Wisconsin for three or four weeks asking for support for her brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hazen, Manawa, who accompanied Mrs. Lawford on her tour of Waupaca county communities, explained that she was enthusiastically received in the places where she visited.

Young Hobby Club Coffee Can, Tin Pail or Even Cereal Box Used for Tom-Tom

BY CAPPY DICK

Every boy and girl likes to play Indian and today I have a fun-project that fits in with this fun. It's a homemade tom-tom which you can use in ceremonial dances.

It's easy to make. All you need is a tin coffee can, a big shortening can, or even a tin pail. A round cardboard carton, such as an oatmeal box, will also do. If you use an oatmeal box, the cover must not be torn. However, if it is torn, a new cover can be made by stretching a piece of heavy, brown wrapping paper over it and tying it tightly with string. You can then drum on the taut paper with your fingers.

A more durable tom-tom is made from a tin coffee or shortening can (Figure 1) or from a bucket. Discard the top of the can and get a piece of chamois skin big enough to cover the opening as in Figure 2.

Wet the leather and stretch it as tightly as possible over the can. Tie it firmly with heavy string. As the leather dries it will shrink and tighten up some more, particularly if you have tied it so snugly that it can't slip. Hold it as the boy is doing in the picture above.

These tom-toms can be beaten only on one end, but that's all right; they'll still produce plenty of sound. In using a tom-tom the Indians carried the tune of their war chiefs with their voices and used the rhythm of the tom-tom as accompaniment.

Accent for Color Scheme

At least one color in every room should be a delight every time you look at it. All the colors should be pleasing of course, but there's so often good reason for using a soft shade of a color when the shade you like best is a bright one, or for using a dark color when the favorite shade of the same color is clear and light. Good decorating often pushes colors into the background where there's no real consciousness of them except as atmosphere, but any room is better for a sparkly area of accent color, and because the accent needn't be large or insistent, it can be the wonderful shade that catches the eye.

A wall might be best in a pale shade of yellow, but an accessory can take the penetrating yellow of a lemon peel. A piece of brilliant ruby glass can sparkle in a room that won't take a red rug. A singing orange in a small rug's pattern is often wonderfully right although it would be too brash in wall-to-wall carpet. The blue of the loveliest bright hyacinth might be matched for pillows but not for the sofa. Look around the house now. The addition of one item in an ar—or even familiar—may enchanting color to each suddenly terrify them. Should this happen, you'll be wise to show sympathy, talk calmly DO as the professional decorator does — start the room force them to face even a supposed danger without your backing.

that West has led from the king. Unfortunately, East shows up with the king of hearts.

East returns a club to the ace, and South leads the jack of hearts to dummy's ace in order to begin the trumps.

Leads Spade 10

Declarer wisely leads the 10 of spades from dummy to start the suit. Lead a high card for a finesse when you can fully afford to have the high card covered.

In this case declarer would be delighted to have dummy's 10 covered by the king. South would be able to draw four trumps with his A-Q-J-9.

East plays a low trump, and dummy's 10 wins the trick. West discards a low club.

You lead another trump from dummy, and this time you must win in your own hand.

Trumps Queen

How do you get back to dummy for the necessary third trump finesse? The only way is to trump your own good queen of hearts. Some people call this the worst crime in bridge — trumping your own trick, but in this case it would be a worse crime to muffle the slam. It's unusual to trump a good card, but it's a device worth knowing about.

The trick is the same whether you win it with the queen of hearts or by ruffing in dummy. The right to lead from dummy is worth the slam and the rubber. You ruff the queen of hearts and lead dummy's last trump for a finesse, and your slam is assured.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S-10 5 3 2, H-A 9, D-Q 6 5 2, C-J 6 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump. There is little value in showing so weak a suit as the spades.

Falls Kill More People Than Other Accidents

New York, N.Y. — Falls kill more people than any other type of home accident, accounting for nearly half of all deaths resulting from accidents in and about the home, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company report.

A study of fatal home accidents among Metropolitan policyholders reveals that fires and burns by other means ranked second to falls as a cause of death. Gas poisoning and injury by firearms accounted for much smaller percentages of the total.

About one third of the fatal falls occurred on stairs and steps, and about one sixth were attributed to falls of people who were merely walking about a room or going from one room to another on the same level.

A major characteristic of the mortality from falls is its heavy concentration among older people. Of the policyholders killed in falls, one third were in the age range 45-64 years, and about half were 65-74. The few persons killed by slipping in the bathtub were more than 50. A majority of the fatal falls from ladders were among people at ages 65 and over.

The largest single cause of death from fires and burns was the burning of homes. Males were the chief victims in fatalities resulting from fires. For smoking in bed or upholstered chairs, while females were most often the victims of accidents in which clothing was ignited by stoves or open fires.

Peabody Manor Fox Cities Leaders Back VNA Home

MARY ELLEN DUCKLOW
Peabody Manor, a home for retired aged persons to be erected on the tree-shaded site of old Jefferson school, will provide a giant step forward in the complex picture of care of the Appleton area's aged population. Prominent Fox Cities clergymen, physicians, industrialists and businessmen already have given it their total support, recognizing that here is a project toward which the community can funnel its enthusiasm, time, work and financial aid.

Dr. Ralph Taylor Alton, pastor of First Methodist church, Dr. Loeschner as written about Peabody Manor:

"Changing concepts of the problems that confront older people have opened doors to such needed facilities as the proposed Peabody Manor.

"People who have had years added to their lives need life added to those years. It can be done by providing opportunity for group living and activity."

The Rev. Carl E. Wilke, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, writes:

"The lengthening span of human life, accompanied by earlier retirement from business and industry, makes it essential that every forward-looking community provide adequate and decent care for its senior citizens. I am very much aware of the need Appleton has for an attractive home to care for the aged, and the demand for this type of accommodation will increase rather than decline in the years ahead."

Dr. Victor F. Marshall writes:

"The Peabody Manor is a worthy project undoubtedly successful in ultimate accomplishment. There is great need for such an institution in our community. In the years of following my vocation I have witnessed a loving mother give devoted attention to rearing 10 children, but 10 children can be forgetful of the love, duty and material assistance which they owe their aged parents."

From the Rev. H. Shelby Lee, pastor of First Congregational church, comes this statement:

"I not only believe in, but I am deeply interested in the proposed Peabody Manor. Such an institution is of tremendous significance when we consider the psychological as well as the physical needs of our beloved senior citizens. The Scripture says that man shall not live by bread alone. This has particular relevance to man's declining years. He will always need bread, but he also needs the undergirding of companionship, friendship and love. In short, our older people need and deserve psychological as well as material security. Peabody Manor will provide both the climate and the structure for just such security."

Dr. E. F. Mielke has written the VNA board:

"As our population grows and becomes more urban and the span of life increases, there will be more need for the care of the aged. Small homes and apartments do not lend themselves well for the old and young to live together in a satisfactory way. We are fortunate to be getting Peabody Manor sponsored by the VNA. It will be, I understand, a modern, high class home for our senior citizens."

From Harold C. Adams, president of Appleton's First National bank: "The number of senior citizens over 65 who live among us is growing steadily. Other communities which are experiencing the same situation are providing special facilities, and Appleton, in keeping up-to-date, should do the same. The Visiting Nurse association has studied the problem of providing a special home for these citizens for many years. Its plans are sound, the need is present and someone should make a start. With everyone working together, the community can soon point with pride to Peabody Manor, which it will have brought into being through its own efforts."

into an area where the need is greatest . . . We must make our experiment in better living come true. . ."

Carl J. Schroeder, administrative assistant, Aid Association for Lutherans, writes:

"In my opinion, there definitely is a need for such a home in our community, and I urge you to tie it into your own family thinking, whether or not these problems are yours, with this task of making Peabody Manor a reality now!"

Madison — The public service commission has authorized the Dairyland Telephone corporation to increase its charges by $4.279 a year for services rendered to 3,640 stations at Shawano and surrounding rural territory.

The company last year converted its exchange from manual to dial operation, and its application to the state asked for higher rates reflecting the changes to dial operations.

The conversion to dial also involved the transfer of toll operations to the Clintonville Exchange of the Urban Telephone company, an affiliated company.

The Shawano exchange serves Bonduel and Gresham exchanges on an extended area basis.

Additional Revenues

The commission explained that because of the changes in operating methods, the level of past operations is "to a large extent meaningless."

The company asked for $36,790 in additional revenues, calculated to provide a rate of return on a net investment cost base of 7.50 per cent. The increases allowed, the commission said, will return 6.51 per cent on a rate base of $744,931. The commission said the company should return a net of $46,683 a year.

The increases in charges for most subscribers will be slight, from $7.90 to $8 for one party business service, and from $4.30 to $4.50 for one party residence and $3.65 to $3.75 for two party residence.

This Map Shows where two men and a woman were arrested Monday noon as suspects in an attempt to rob the Nichols State bank. After bungling the holdup attempt, the getaway car fled from Nichols on Highway 156 to the Maine-Cicero town line road, then south to a town road about one mile south of County Trunk G. The car was found in a driveway leading into the Shiocton school property. The farm home owned by Mrs. Pearl Faneuf lies just south of the town road. It was here that Mrs. Ann Schley, 35, and Leonard R. Leplay, 29, both of Milwaukee, were arrested. Earl Wing, the third member, was arrested at the Wing farm, shown on Highway 187.

Arraign Nichols Bank Suspects

Outagamie County Undersheriff Donald Heinritz said Wing, armed with a .30-30 rifle, was concealed in the trunk of the gray, 1949 Cadillac used as a getaway car.

Wing was described by authorities as the "brains" behind the robbery attempt. He has served prison terms for robberies of banks at Pulaski in 1933 and New London in 1945. He was paroled from Waupun about 8 months ago.

In 1927 he was in court on a forgery charge and drew a 1 to 2-year term. In 1929 he was convicted of armed robbery and sentenced to 4 to 6 years. Five years later he drew 15 to 20 years at Waupun for the Pulaski robbery. He was released in 1945 and two months later he was charged with the New London bank robbery. He was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth, Kan. Released from Leavenworth in 1948, Wing was convicted a month later of the armed hold-up of a tavern near Shawano and drew a 3 to 20-year term.

Met At Waupun Wing and Leplay met at Waupun, where Leplay was serving a life term for first degree murder, authorities said. He was convicted of the slaying of an Ashland man in October, 1946. Leplay was paroled Oct. 1, 1958.

Laborer Admitted Beheading Girl, Prosecution Says

Birmingham, England.—(AP)—The prosecution said today a 27-year-old laborer admitted attacking pretty Stephanie Biard, 29, who was beheaded in a YWCA hotel last December.

Testimony would show, said Prosecutor M. J. Jardine at a preliminary hearing, that the defendant, Patrick Byrne, cut off the dead girl's head and placed it on her bed.

The hearing is expected to last two or three days. The court will then decide whether Byrne will stand trial.

denoever and Arnold found a .30-30 rifle hidden under a fallen tree and an army overcoat and cap which were identified as those worn by the man who had entered the Nichols bank. Still missing is the sawed-off shotgun with which the man was said to be armed when he attempted the hold-up.

Getaway Car Meanwhile, Wing had driven into Nichols in an effort to prove that he was not the man who had entered the bank. He was arrested when he returned to the Wing farm.

The getaway car was registered to Mrs. Schley, who said she has a 5-year-old daughter. The flat tire was badly mangled, evidently from being used after it had gone flat, Heinritz said. It was impossible to tell if a slug from Hahn's Luger had struck it. There were no signs that Hahn's shots had hit the car.

Heinritz's jeep was pressed into service when it was thought the search might lead into the snow-clogged back country of Outagamie county. Jailer Tony Van Wymeren drove the vehicle to the search area.

Residents of Six School Districts Hear About Annexation Possibilities

Mann, Krueger Say Appleton's Not Soliciting Business, Explain System

Residents of six school districts surrounding Appleton jammed the Badger school Parent-Teachers association room Monday night to hear Appleton school board President Edward Krueger and Supt. John P. Mann explain what will happen if and when the outlying districts are annexed to the Appleton system.

Residents of the Badger district have petitioned for annexation to the Appleton school system. The county school committee's public hearing on the petition will be March 8. The Appleton common council will discuss the matter as committee of the whole tonight; the Badger board is sponsoring an open discussion at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, and the Badger citizens' committee which started the annexation petition will meet Friday.

At Monday's meeting were people from Badger, Triangle, Elm Tree, Twin Wil-lows, Woodlawn and Red Star districts. State law requires that all be annexed to high school districts by July, 1962.

Not Soliciting Business Krueger told the group that he and Mann were "not out here soliciting any business," but neither were they discouraging any action toward annexation.

Mann explained that the county committee has the power to decide on annexation of school districts. If the districts do not voluntarily annex to high school districts board might give them time to get them. The rural school principals, Mann explained, would have school system administrators over them.

Vote for Appleton Board The rural school boards would lose their jobs if their districts were annexed, Mann said. However, voters of these districts would be able to vote for and be elected to the Appleton school board.

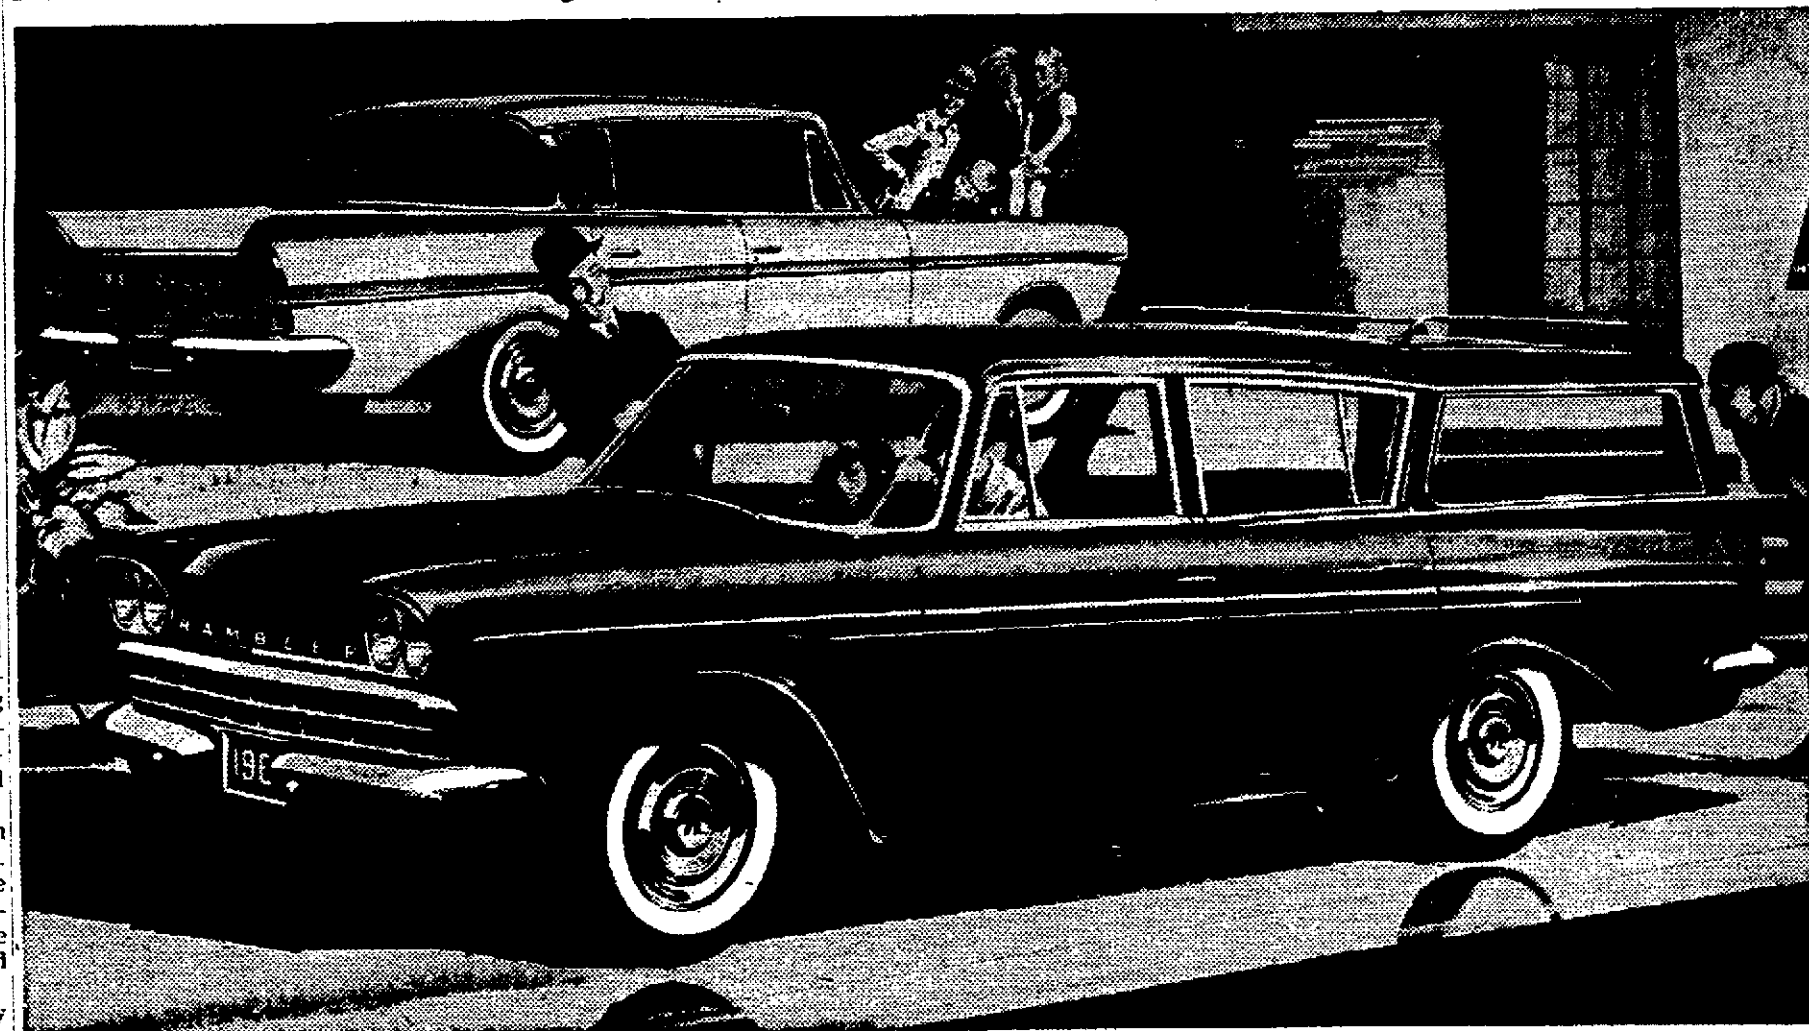

Would the suburban taxes go up? Mann predicted that their taxes would go up whether they were annexed or not. However, as a part of the Appleton system, the schools would get services they do not have now. High school students from the district would not have to pay tuition, and all students could attend Appleton summer schools without paying tuition.

The Appleton schools' administration and board of education prepare a budget and present it to the city council, Mann explained, and the city council sets the school tax levy. For parts of the school district lying outside the city limits, the town chairmen would have one vote for every $200,000 equalized valuation in those parts.

Assets and Liabilities The state department of taxation determines the equalized evaluation.

When the city school system takes in smaller districts, it takes over both its assets and its liabilities. The smaller districts, in turn, assume their share of the Appleton district's assets and liabilities.

age from certain areas only if those areas would annex. They did not favor handling the sewage on a cost basis. Annexation or nothing was their stand.

This left the township either to build its own facilities or for parts of the town to break off and seek annexation to the closest city which could serve them.

Plan No. 4

Under plan No. 4, the one which would serve the entire eastern part of the town from Little Lake Butte des Morts to Highway 10 and from Lake Winnebago north to Appleton and the Fox river, a sewage disposal plant providing secondary treatment, or complete treatment, would be built in the ravine near Little Lake Butte des Morts and St. Mary's cemetery.

Interceptors would be laid from each section of the town to this plant. These sewers would be 10-inch mains at the extremities, increasing in size to an 18-inch sewer at the plant. A 24-inch main would take the effluent from the plant to the lake.

To these interceptors would be hooked in sanitary sewers from the various built-up areas, except for the Lynch plat which now is hooked into Appleton for both sewer and water.

First Interceptor

One interceptor would begin at the Valley Fair Shopping center and would serve the Knorr's Woods, Baldwin Heights, Palisades area, Butte des Morts beach plat, Butte des Morts place plat and Page's plat on its way to the sewage disposal plant. This is the extreme north end and the area along the Fox river and Little Lake Butte des Morts.

This interceptor would go south along County Trunk P until cutting over to the disposal plant.

A second interceptor sewer would begin at the Highway 10 and Midway road intersection and would go directly west and would meet the first interceptor at the County Trunk P intersection with Midway road. It would serve the entire Midway industrial and residential areas.

K-C to Expand Plant in Ohio

Going north from this interceptor would be a shorter 12-inch main which would extend along Highway 47 to serve the area along that highway up to County Trunk P where it meets Highway 47.

Third Interceptor

A third major cross-town interceptor would extend east from the plant along the Old Airport road and head directly east on a straight line from Highway 47. It would extend until about Highway 10 and would serve areas in the extreme east end which are platted but not yet built up.

From this interceptor a force main will go south to cover the southeastern part of the town, ending at Highway 114. It would serve the Brighton Beach plat, Porsch plat, Van Groll subdivision and the Homestead acres plats. A pump station would be built on County Trunk BP, known as the old Manitowoc road.

Other interceptors would extend north from near the Menasha city limits along Racine street and Tayco street road to tie in to major lines leading to the plant.

Would Cost $123,000

State board of health officials informally indicated to town officers they prefer Plan No. 4, the one serving the entire town, to the plans for serving only parts of the town.

Plan No. 1, which would cost about $123,000 for disposal plant and interceptors, would handle only the shopping center area, Knorr's wood and Baldwin Heights. This would be more of an immediate emergency step to handle that area which is east of the Milwaukee road tracks and at the north end of the township near Appleton. The disposal plant would be built near the Milwaukee road tracks.

Plan No. 2 would include this area and the Palisades area and would locate the disposal plant near Little Lake Butte des Morts. The cost of this would be about $166,000, the McMahon Engineering company estimates.

Tell Plan No. 3

Plan No. 3, cost for which would be about $606,000, would put the sewage disposal plant in the ravine where it would be under Olan No. 4 and would include the entire part of the town north of the Old Airport road.

The Suburban Heights area would be hooked in to this plan by connecting with the Old Airport road interceptor, but about 800 acres in the area immediately north of Menasha and in the southeastern part of the town would be omitted. The interceptor sewer locations would be almost the same as those proposed for Plan No. 4.

Only one force main would be required in any of the plans and that would be for the southeastern section toward Highway 114 and Lake Winnebago under Plan No. 4, it was brought out. The Appleton main to serve the University of Wisconsin extension center is a force main under the original plan.

Neenah — An expansion program that will triple the production capacity of the Moraine paper mill at West Carrollton, Ohio, was announced today, March 1, by Kimberly-Clark corporation.

John R. Kimberly, chairman of the board, said the expansion calls for the installation of a new paper machine for the production of bond and offset papers and new buildings that will add about 200,000 square feet of floor space. Moraine Paper company is a division of American Envelope Company, which Kimberly-Clark acquired in February of 1959.

Construction is expected to get underway in spring, with completion scheduled for late 1961, Kimberly stated. American Envelope produces a wide variety of envelopes, fine stationery, envelope paper and business papers.

New Guidance Center In Partial Operation

Neenah — An almost full operation began Monday at the Winnebago county guidance center, Dr. John Gieblink, psychologist, announced Monday.

He and the psychiatric social worker, Fred Kepfield, have begun preliminary work on cases referred to the new facility, in the WNAM building immediately south of the Neenah city limits on County Trunk A.

The psychiatrist and medical director, Dr. George W. Arndt, will begin work later when sufficient cases are in progress. In the meantime, psychiatric consultation and supervision is being arranged.

According to the present plan, clients will be interviewed by the social worker to determine whether the center's services will be appropriate to the case. If the center staff finds its services are not appropriate, the staff will make a referral to the proper community service organization.

If a case is accepted, Gieblink said, the staff will evaluate the case, mostly by further interviewing of the family. Gieblink will administer psychological tests.

The present policy calls for a $3 fee for the initial interview, with subsequent fees

Oriental Art Exhibit, Lecture March Events at Paine Center

Oshkosh — Oriental art and a lecture by Jack V. Sewell, curator of oriental art at the Art Institute of Chicago, will be featured by Paine Art Center and Arboretum in March. Sewell will lecture March 17 on Chinese and Japanese paintings.

"The Way of Chinese Landscape Painting," an unusual and informative exhibition of 52 original ink and water color studies will be shown at the center beginning today through March 31. The show is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition service.

The exhibit illustrates with paintings and explanatory text the evolution of a characteristic Chinese landscape painting. The studies are the work of Dr. Fritz van Briesen, a German foreign service officer, who while stationed in Peking, studied for five years under the guidance of the eminent landscape painter, P'u Ch'uan.

The technique of Chinese landscape painting, developed in the course of centuries, has varied in degree, but never in principle. This educational exhibit enables the viewer to understand a process which is applicable to all periods in the history of Chinese art.

Inner Reality

Chinese painters have never confined themselves to copying the visual world. They have sought to present not the external form, but the idea or inner reality of that form. As Dr. van Briesen points out, "More than representation, Chinese painting is philosophizing with the brush."

The painters seek to give expression to the Yang and the Yin, the male and female principle, or the coincidence of opposites. The male element connotes technique and the female, inspiration.

Dr. van Briesen has said, "There is no real boundary between these opposites and only their unity creates a work of art." The artist points out that "each part of a Chinese painting grows in several stages and layers into perfection. The beginnings are usually the outlines, which then are filled with wrinkles, washes and dots."

Two Methods

He explains the two main methods of painting as "pi fa" the method in which the brush is used almost exclusively for a linear expression, and "mo fa", in which the painter concentrates on the tonal values and the wetness or dryness of the ink.

In the North gallery of the center, the ivory collection of Norbert Behoff of Milwaukee will be on display. Some of the pieces date from the 14th, 15th and 16th centuries.

At one time practically all known ivory production in Europe was for religious shrines and story panels. In China one can find the entire story of an individual, the events accurately and delicately carved into the ivory.

Ivory Collection

In the Behoff collection are carvings done by English, Dutch, French and Chinese artists and later ones from Africa, India and Japan. An additional attraction, not related to art, is a 20,000 year old tusk of a mammoth, found in Alaska.

Visitor hours are 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Visitor hours on Sunday, March 6, will be from 2 to 5 p.m.

Best in Bard, a sun and winter air conditioning unit has been installed in the area by Menasha Sheet Metal, 314 Racine street, Menasha. Shown above is Russ Ihde, shop foreman, checking the installation of the Bard deluxe oil-fired unit in a Menasha home.

The new summer and winter air conditioning unit has now installed more than 900 Bard units in the Fox Cities' homes.

Both too-high and too-low relative humidity is costly and damaging. So, control is of vital importance, Hartzheim said, in providing and maintaining the exact relative humidity required. A sensitive humidistat at all times and an electric solenoid valve control the unit — maintaining the level of humidity set on the humidistat.

Everyone knows the uncomfortable feeling of too much humidity during the hot sticky summer months. But a lot of people don't know is that the humidifier in the winter can reduce colds and respiratory ailments caused by parched air. Dry, artificially heated air draws moisture from any source, including draperies, furniture, wood trim, frequently resulting in costly damage.

The Aprilaire humidifiers are designed to evaporate more than one gallon of water per hour — more than enough capacity for the average six-room house.

Area readers with a heat-cooling problem are invited to stop at Menasha Sheet Metal, 314 Racine street, or call Bill Hartzheim at PA 2-3653.

Menashans Face La Crosse Squad In Opening Test

Menasha — St. Mary's state tournament - bound Zephyrs will resume practice Wednesday afternoon in preparation for the Catholic High school meet March 11-13 at Milwaukee. Coach Ralph McClone gave his Zephyrs two days off after they won their fourth straight regional meet Sunday at Little Chute. The Menashans take on La Crosse Aquinas Friday, March 11, in their first 'state' test but whether it will be an afternoon or evening contest hasn't been revealed yet. Aquinas entered the field of eight with a 65-59 win over Campion of Prairie du Chien after besting Mauston Madonna 78-61 in the first test. A win over the La Crosse squad would put St. Mary in the semi-finals against the victor of the Wisconsin Rapids Assumption - Marinette Central Catholic game. A loss would relegate it to consolation play. Eyes 3rd Title Defending champion Racine St. Catherine, which goes after its third straight crown, is in the other bracket along with Waukesha Memorial, Milwaukee Notre Dame and Eau Claire Regis. For the Zephyrs, this will be their 10th straight trip to the state meet. They are one of five of last year's returnees, the others being St. Catherine, Aquinas, Marinette and Assumption. Milwaukee Cathedral, Superior Cathedral and Madison Edgewood failed to make the grade. St. Mary and Assumption are the only two schools to win four straight regionals to gain state berths since the sub-tournaments system has been used to pick the final field of eight. Formerly the meet, begun at St. Norbert college, was invitational. Roster Changes The extra week between the tournaments is expected to give the Zephyrs more time to heal the numerous ailments which have plagued them all year. McClone may make some changes in the tournament roster. He has been using 14 players on the varsity squad but only 12 can be carried

Menasha's Cage Meet Set to Open

Neenah Brings Best Record Into Sub-Regional Tourney

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Tournament time — that portion of the basketball season when a year of disappointments can be atoned for by a few victories, descends upon the Twin Cities Thursday night with the opening of the Menasha sub-regional meet.

Host Menasha will tackle Oshkosh at 7 p. m. Thursday, and Neenah and Omro complete the initial twin bill with an 8:30 tilt.

The winners will collide at 8:30 p. m. Friday for the right to meet the Hortonville sub-regional victor here Saturday night. Thursday's losers will square off in a consolation game at 7 p. m., with the winner taking on its contemporary from the Hortonville field in the first Saturday night fracas.

Neenah Has 13-5 Mark

On the basis of the records compiled by the four Winnebago teams during the long season, Neenah is expected to be the favorite. Last year, Oshkosh drew the role, proved the experts were right but then fell to Kimberly in the regional finals.

Neenah, with a 13-5 record, has won nine of its 11 games since Jan. 1. Both of the losses were by 5-point margins to Mid-Eastern conference champion Kimberly.

Menasha, the hard-luck team of the M-E with 4-point defeats to three of the first division clubs in the last month, saw its frustrations turn into joy with a win over Kaukauna last Friday night.

The Jays have an overall 9-8 record. Another of their losses was by one point to Appleton, a co-champion in the Fox River Valley conference.

Oshkosh was picked by the dopesters, at the start of the

Kimberly 6th, Terrors 15th In Final Poll

Milwaukee Lincoln, Waukesha Finish 1-2 on 'Big 16'

Kimberly jumped up to sixth and Appleton was ranked for the first time this season in the final WIAA state basketball ratings released today in Madison.

Kimberly, last season's top-rated team in the "Big 16," moved up two notches from eighth place on the final honor roll.

Appleton, which had previously been accorded special mention, moved up to the No. 15 spot.

Kaukauna, which had been in the "Big 16" all season, dropped from twelfth to special mention in the final accounting.

Finish No. 1

Milwaukee Lincoln, which topped the ratings all season long, finished as the No. 1 team. The Dick Wadewitz-coached Cornets sport a 34-game winning streak over two seasons and will be the defending state high school champions. They won the 1959-60 Milwaukee City title.

Waukesha's Blackshirts, unbeaten Milwaukee Suburban conference titlists, regained second in the final ratings. They replaced Eau Claire, which had been ranked second last week and are third this week.

The only newcomer, besides Appleton, to the final ratings was West Allis Nathan Hale, which placed sixteenth.

Fox Cities area schools which earned a special mention, besides Kaukauna, include: Bonduel (173), Green Bay West (12-6), Hortonville (14-3), and Sheboygan Central (12-5).

Omro, which last year had the sub-regional's top scorer in Doug Emerson, is considerably weaker than in 1959 when it lost both starts here. The Foxes had an overall 6-11 mark, including 5-8 in the Little Nine conference. Since mid-season they've been playing without Bob Doro, their high scorer, who was dismissed for disciplinary reasons.

Terrors' Ron Abel Selected On All-FRVC Cage Team

Meany, Englund, Posewitz and Esther Round Out Honor '5'

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Manitowoc—For the fourth straight year, the Appleton High school basketball team is represented on the all-Fox River Valley conference quintet.

But, for the first time in that span, the current representative is not a backcourtman.

He's 6-5 senior Ron Abel, who chalked up another achievement in a brilliant comeback year when he was picked to the all-FRVC first team by league sportswriters here Monday night.

Abel, labelled the outstanding defensive forward in the circuit and the conference's No. 2 pointmaker, is joined in the first team front line by another pair of 6-5 giants. They are Manitowoc junior Paul Meany, the loop scoring champion, and Oshkosh High senior, Gene Englund, Jr., runnerup to Meany and Abel in the scoring race.

The first team guards are Al Esther, a 6-2 junior who divided the season between Green Bay West and Fond du Lac, and Tom Posewitz, all-FRVC football quarterback who transferred his playmaking talents to the basketball court.

AHS' John Nussbaum, who made the first team as a junior last season, figured in a 3-way tie for a second team guard berth this year. He

Badgers Fade; Northwestern Wins, 73-59

Burks Paces UW With 19 Points; Campbell Wires 30

Evanston — Wisconsin's Badgers played Northwestern on even terms through the first half of a Big Ten basketball game Monday night but then faded and the Wildcats went on to score a 73-59 victory.

Northwestern climbed into a third place tie with idle Minnesota by the victory and assured itself a first division finish. Wisconsin fell to 3-10 for the Big Ten season. The Wildcats are 8-5 in the conference.

Floyd Campbell set the scoring pace for Northwestern with 30 points, getting 20 in the first half which ended in a 37-37 tie.

Burks Scores 19
Sophomore Frank Burks, who hails from the Chicago area, kept the Badgers in contention by scoring 16 points in the first half, but he slipped in the final period and got only three more. He led the Badgers in scoring with 19 points.

Northwestern employed a stalling game early in the final period and threw the Badgers off stride. The Wildcats then began to click and broke the game wide open and won with ease.

The Wildcats went ahead to stay 43-42 after five minutes of the second half had elapsed. The Wildcats were Indiana ripped the Buckeyes, 99-83, and avenged their 1-point loss at Columbus earlier in the season. If Indiana had won that game, the two teams would be tied for conference lead today.

But as things stand, the Buckeyes already have won the title and a shot at the NCAA championship.

Clints Rout Seymour In Tourney Opener

Eleven Truckers Score in 90-68 Sub-Regional Romp

Clintonville — Eleven players got into the scoring act for Clintonville High's hot-shooting Truckers here Monday night as they downed Seymour, 90-68, in the opening game of the Clintonville Sub-Regional tournament.

The victory moved Clintonville into a Sub-Regional semifinal game against Pulaski at 8:30 Thursday evening. Clintonville's season record is now 4-14. Seymour's is 1-17.

Ken Beggs hit the game's first fielder for Clintonville and the Truckers never trailed. They led, 24-14, after one quarter. Dick Shaw and Larry Mory of Seymour got hot in the second period, combining for 16 points, and the Indians moved to within four at one time.

Truckers Led
But Clintonville led, 47-35, at the half and kept increasing its lead. Clintonville shot a torrid 54 per cent for the game on 37 baskets in 68 shots. The Truckers made 16 of 26 free throws to Seymour's 26 for 42.

the winners with 17 points. George Greeley, 6-6 sophomore playing his first varsity game since early in the season, tallied 16 points. He made five of six field goals and six of seven free throws.

Jim Sutliff scored 11 points in the first half and Leon Westphal hit 12, all but two in the first half, as reserves took over for the Clints in the final two periods.

Mory was high for Seymour with 26. He hit well over 50 per cent from the floor, mainly on jump shots from outside, and counted on 10 of 13 free throws. Dick Shaw scored 16, making just six 13 shots.

The Truckers fast-broke well, and dominated rebounding.

Warriors Play Xavier '5' in Home Finale

Milwaukee — Marquette winds up the home season tonight with a basketball game with Xavier of Cincinnati, a team that beat it 79-75 earlier in the season.

The victory is a must for Xavier which is shooting for a berth in the NIT tournament. The Muskies have a 17-7 record.

The Warriors, with 12-11 record for the season, needs the victory to insure finishing above the .500 mark. They wind up the season against Creighton at Omaha Friday night and the finale could be tough.

Don Kojis, the 6-5 junior, who already has Marquette's all-time field goal mark of 207, with 487 points is 40 away from the single season scoring record of 525. He can top it by maintaining his 21.2 average.

Puns Fall as Gentle Rain From Heav'n as Old Charlie Opens Gate

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

I assure gentle reader that I am trying manfully to "get off" the subject of puns because of the grammatical wrongs I have perpetrated in discussing them, but, alas, puns keep coming to my door.

Holmes once wrote thus: "Life and language are alike sacred. Homicide and verbiage — that is, violent treatment of a word with fatal results to its legitimate meaning — are alike forbidden. Manslaughter which is the meaning of the one, is the same as man's laughter, which is the end of the other."

But my shame for the columns of punning and puns may be too defensive. Greater men than I have expended time and trouble upon their creation as well as their exposure to the eyes of the world. I do not see why I can't have a little fun, too.

Shakespeare turned his hand many times to punning, though not always brilliantly. In his Romeo and Juliet, the bard permitted Mercutio to die with a pun on his lips, for he says: "Ask for me tomorrow and you shall find me a grave man."

Oliver Wendell Holmes, who many times decried the form of the pun, once was a young doctor before he turned to writing. It is said that he tacked a note on the door of his office which read: "Small fevers gratefully received."

With Apologies

Though I have sinned greatly against the English language (and will again) I am now helpless to stop the flow of puns.

Apologetically I renew the old one about the wounded knight in armor who was rescued by a huge St. Bernard dog. The knight crawled upon the broad back of the animal and rode into a great rainstorm. Seeking shelter, he was turned away from several inns. At last, however, they walked thus to the door of a kind-hearted inn keeper who permitted the dog and its rider to enter.

"I wouldn't throw a knight out on a dog like this," he said.

And who remembers the church sexton who played his chimes excellently on the great booming bells, but when it came to tinkling the little bell artfully, he always failed.

Me, Oh My

He was discharged from his duties, because, said the pastor, "He didn't do right by our little knell."

If the nursery is the bawli room and the baby awakes in the wee wee hours of the morning, and the child is trained only because of pot luck—then why may I not toy with puns, too, even if some of them are a little

Reds Criticize Appleton Native for Radio Work

William Beverly Murphy Raises Money for Crusade for Freedom

An Appleton native has been the target of a bitter attack by the communist press of eastern Europe. He is William Beverly Murphy, newly-elected chairman of the Crusade for Freedom in Munich and who had been in Munich and inspecting the facilities of Radio Free Europe.

Murphy was born here 52 years ago, and for the last seven years has held the $180,000 a year position of Campbell Soup company president. He is unperturbed by the attacks published in the Bulgarian newspapers Rabotnichesko Delo and Vecherni Novini. They criticized him for campaigning for $10 million for Radio Free Europe, which they called "this loathsome radio station which specializes in slander against international understanding and the socialist countries."

RFE is at the bottom of every dark and criminal deed which is aimed against the freedom of the people," the papers charged. The radio system broadcasts from 28 transmitters to 76 million people in communist Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. It monitors more than 50 communist radio stations and press services to it can counter the soviet propaganda.

The Crusade for Freedom is the private, nonprofit American organization supporting RFE.

"It is urgent that the truth be communicated to the captive populations of eastern Europe to hold in their minds the hope for eventual freedom," Murphy said.

Murphy is a 1928 chemical engineering graduate of the University of Wisconsin and is a trustee of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. He received an honorary degree from Lawrence college in 1954.

He joined the Campbell Soup in 1938, after 10 years with A. C. Nielsen company, Chicago.

Murphy's mother, Mrs. S. W. Murphy, lives at 813 E. College avenue. He lives at Gladwyne, Pa., where he and his wife like to play tennis and bridge. They have four children and six grandchildren. Murphy reads about many subjects and personally visits the Campbell plants in America and Europe.

Murphy's appointment to the Crusade for Freedom post came partly because of his experience at fund raising. He led campaigns which raised $1,700,000 for the Presbytery of Philadelphia, $300,000 for Episcopal academy, where his children went to school, and more than $800,000 for the Camden community chest.

Meetings Preliminary To Crusade Picketed By Witch Doctors

Nairobi, Kenya — African witch doctors are picketing preliminary meetings of Billy Graham's crusade in Kisumu, where the American evangelist is to appear tomorrow.

The Rev. Joseph Blinco, now in Kisumu 165 miles northwest of Nairobi, advised Graham that for the last three days native medicine men have been parading outside the meeting in their weird costumes, muttering incantations.

The Rev. Mr. Blinco refused to stop, however, and addressed about 8,000 persons in the last three days. More than a thousand Africans came forward to make decisions for Christ, he reported. There have been no incidents in Kisumu, and Graham will fly there tomorrow as scheduled.

The evangelist had a brief discussion today with Tom Mboya, Kenya's African nationalist leader who has just returned from talks in London on Kenya's constitution.

Keep Expense Account Records

BY SYLVIA PORTER
(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)

The current uproar over the treasury's latest crack-down on expense accounts may have confused you. But the treasury has not changed the rule which excuses you, the employee, from giving details of your expense account on your individual tax return if you are required to account to your employer.

Instead, the Treasury tightened up on what it means by "accounting."

Its examining agents have been instructed to check the accounting procedure of each employer they audit. If the procedure isn't in accordance with "acceptable business practices," the agent must list all the employees who received expense accounts and how much. Then the treasury will check the individual returns of these employees.

Must Give Details

An "acceptable business practice," says the treasury would require you, the employee, to give your employer the details of your business outlays, "such as hotel bills, transportation, tickets, etc."

In addition, it would require a general breakdown of your expenses into broad categories, such as transportation, meals and lodging while away from home overnight, etc.

Despite this toughened attitude toward accounting procedures, you, as an employee, still are exempt from reporting certain per diem and mileage allowances — even if you don't account for them at all.

Affects Commissions

The accounting rule also has been tightened with reference to straight commission salesmen, many of whom merely supply their employers with a dollar total of money they spent for expenses; their aim is simply to let their employers know the amounts on which there should be no tax withholding. This is not an "accounting" for expense account reporting purposes, says the treasury. It will insist that the commission salesman report the entire amount received by him, whether treated as commissions or expense reimbursement. The commission salesman then has to list on the return and be ready to support with proof his actual expense deductions.

Finally, the treasury makes it clear that it won't accept a credit card, by itself, as the cure-all for expense accounts.

Although a credit charge to an employer usually gives the date, place and nature of the charge, it doesn't show that it was a proper business expense of the employee. Unless you, the employee, give this information in some way to your employer, you will have to report the amount of your credit charges to your employer as income on your return and list the actual expense deductions.

Investigate Lodges, Yachts
To avoid this, you should either note the business nature of the expense or submit a separate voucher with this information included.

The treasury also will use the 1960 returns of the employer firms to dig up information about the personal use of business funds for hunting lodges, yachts, vacations, etc., so that it can charge these amounts as income to the employees or partners who benefit from them.

Be warned. Be reasonable. Be prepared. Keep records. Have proof of expense account deductions. This is a crackdown.

Tomorrow: Good news on casualty losses.

City, Village Begin Study of Sewage Project

Kaukauna Mayor Tells Combined Locks Of Rate Hike Need

Kaukauna — Officials of Combined Locks and Kaukauna agreed at a joint meeting Monday night to begin immediate investigation into the sewage treatment problem in the two communities.

Combined Locks officials were informed Kaukauna would seek a rate increase for treatment of sewage from the village and were asked to have the ordinance covering storm water draining into sanitary sewer lines enforced in the village.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon asked village officials whether any plans were underway for that community to build its own sewage treatment plant.

Dan Williams, Combined Locks president, asked whether any figures were available on what it would cost the village if Kaukauna would enlarge its plant. Bayorgeon said costs were not yet set as the city wanted to know whether Combined Locks would continue to have sewage treated by Kaukauna as this would have considerable bearing on the cost of remodeling the plant.

Not Resolved

Since neither community seemed able to supply answers to the questions it was agreed to consider talk on the matter on an individual basis, each to inform the other of progress or decisions reached.

Mayor Bayorgeon said the village had as many new homes constructed in 1959 as Kaukauna did and in 1960 it is ahead of Kaukauna. This growth bears an important influence on the consideration for changing the sewage plant from primary to secondary treatment, he continued. He also advised the village to
